A Merry Christmas to All

COMMITTEE REPORT CONCLUDES

Apartments Are a Key to Pacifica's Future

By LOIS McNALLY

If Santa Claus wants to do something nice for the City of Pacifica this Christmas Day, he might keep an apartment building trend going that is just under way.

At least that's one of the conclusions of a blue-ribbon land use committee, headed by Councilman George Mason. The committee believes apartments may be one of the keys to the city's future.

The group comprises representatives from the Chamber of Commerce, the Planning commission, Park, Beach and Recreation commission and the city administration.

Members were asked by the City Council to draw up guidelines for use in rezoning Pacifica's large and unused tracts of land.

The committee will meet January 8 to finish drafting its written report to the Council.

However, conclusions already reached include an observation that the full impact of the demand for apartment houses has not yet been felt in Pacifica but that this is a trend that should definitey be watched. The report offers these observations:

Multiple family dwellings will be built in Pacifica in greater numbers, and, hopefully, in increasingly better quality. They will benefit the city by bringing in higher tax returns and fewer children to crowd schools.

However, their residents will demand a considerable increase in municipal services.

Deterioration of these apartment houses, if shoddily built, could bring a whole new set of problems of a social and economic character to the city.

Temporary use permits should be issued to put present unused and undeveloped land to work.

There are many such areas in Pacifica that could be utilized to provide increased taxes and places for local employment.

Time Limits on such use permits should be geared to the individual situation.

Possibilities listed include such diverse enterprises as: stables for domesticated animals, agriculture, golf driving ranges, orchard farms and midget auto tracks.

The Pacifica City Council should always be alert to the development of land for permanent employment purposes.

There are many such possibilities and they do not mean "smokestack type" industry. They could be service businesses, commercial recreation, motels or restaurants.

SPECIFICALLY, the committee report urges that the area north of the Sharp Park golf course, on or near the coast highway, be developed, where possible, for employment outlets and apartments of the highest quality.

There should be a special emphasis on commercial recreation, and encouragement also given to service businesses wishing to locate in this area.

South of the golf course extending down the coast highway to Sea Bowl (excluding areas already specifically zoned or master-planned), land should be developed for employment — with emphasis on motels and restaurants.

There will be a need for rapid transit along Skyline drive serving both sides of the Peninsula, the committee report observes. The future of Pacifica will rest heavily on transportation facilities.

Looking toward a population of 50,000 by 1970, Pacifica will need better connections to the east side of the Peninsula and a better highway system throughout, the report concludes.

Route 229 Is Approved For Pacifica

Sweeney Ridge To Hewitt Road

The California Highway commission last week adopted a freeway routing for 2.2 miles of State Highway Route 229 in Pacifica between State Sign Route 1 and the Pacifica city limit at Sweeney Ridge.

The adopted route runs north for approximately a quarter-mile from its starting point just north of the Hewitt avenue intersection with State Sign Route 1, curving to the east and crossing State Sign Route 1 just south of Mori's Point road.

It then proceeds in a general easterly direction to the Pacifica city limit at Sweeney Ridge, where it joins a freeway routing through San Bruno adopted by the commission in January, 1962.

The route was recommended by state highway engineers.

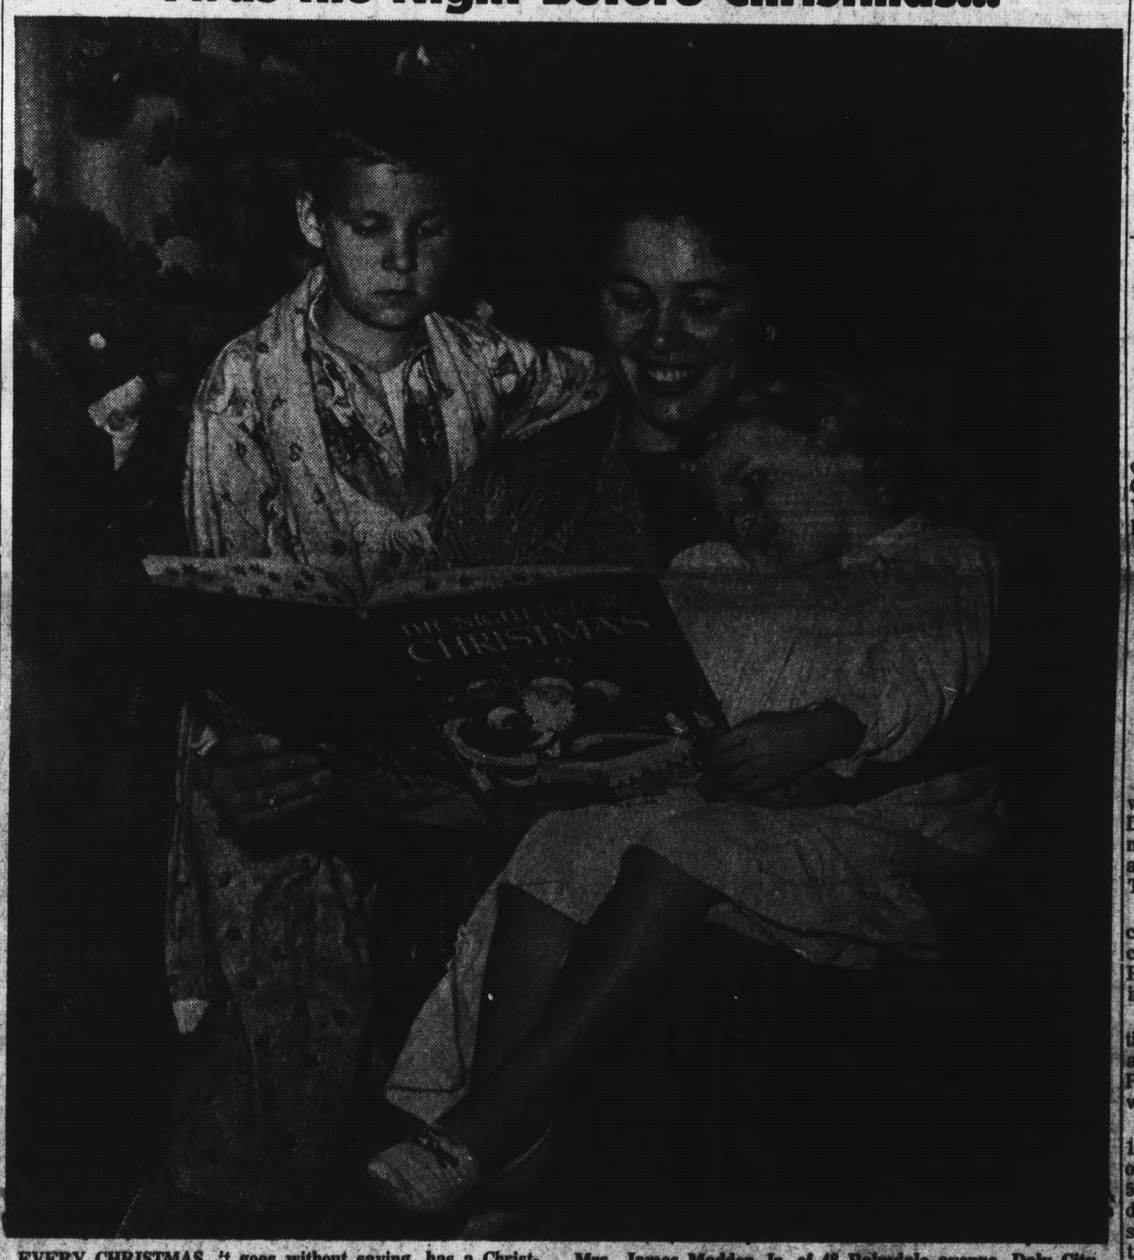
The recommended route and two possible alternates were discussed at a public hearing held by the division of highways in Pacifica on September 18.

The commission announced in November that it was considering the adoption of a freeway routing and the city council of Pacifica subsequently waived a public hearing by the commission.

Plans of the division of highways call for the construction of a four-lane freeway with provision for future expansion to six lanes.

The cost is estimated at $10,600,000, including rights of way. Start of construction will depend on the availability of future highway funds.

'Twas the Night Before Christmas...



EVERY CHRISTMAS, it goes without saying, has a Christmas eve—that warm and joyful time of year when families gather under the Yuletide tree. Here, in a Christmas eve scene repeated in many homes throughout the North county, Mrs. James Madden Jr. of 48 Palmdale avenue, Daly City, reads a Christmas story to her children, Jim, 8, and Sandra, 3. Today, the youngsters were totally absorbed in their new toys. (Post-Times photo by Ray MacDonald).

800 UNITS NEAR WESTMOOR

Multiple Dwelling Plan Considered

By RON BATES

A proposal to build 800 apartment units adjacent to Westmoor High school and a requested zoning change on property planed for a junior high school were considered last week by the Daly City Planning commission.

The commission will discuss both again at its meeting January 14.

Officials of the Jefferson Elementary School district expressed concern with both proposals last week.

The 800 units, to be built by developer Gus Pedemonte, would consist of 200 apartment houses with four units each.

The buildings will be erected on 25-foot lots, which, according to City Engineer William Chapman, are not customary in that section of the city.

Vinton Stratton, assistant superintendent of the Jefferson school district, asked for information on the exact number and size of apartments so that the effect on the school in the area could be determined.

He asked for a one-month delay on any decision by the commission.

Superintendent Richard Foster said later if studio or "bachelor" apartments are proposed, the district would not be too concerned.

If the proposal is for two and three-bedroom apartments, however, the district would have to prepare to accommodate school-agechildren.

Chapman said Pedemonte's proposal calls for ground floor garages opening onto access streets with no curbs.

He said the plan would satisfy the city requirement of one-to-one offstreet parking but would leave no facilities for guest parking.

Chapman suggested that Pedemonte construct alleys and garages in the rear of the buildings so that curbing could be installed to accommodate guest parking.

Pedemonte has withdrawn his plans temporarily to study variable front setbacks, planter strips and adequate parking suggested by Chapman.

In the other action concerning schools, Stolte incorporated, an Oakland construction firm, asked for an apartment rezoning on property south of the St. Francis Square Shopping center from single family and unclassified.

School superintendent Foster informed Chapman that the school district planned to condemn the property for a junior high school and requested a one-month delay on the rezoning decision.

The school board authorized a condemnation certificate of necessity at its December 2 meeting and is waiting for appraisals on the property before filing an application with the State Department of Finance for purchase funds.

An apartment zoning would automatically raise the value of the property and thus its cost to the school district.

Land Trade Is Approved By Pacifica

Christmas is a time for exchanging gifts and the Pacifica City Council, filled with the Yule spirit, took formal action last week to exchange something with Daly City.

The much-talked, little-done about land swap between the two cities got moving again when Pacifica agreed to exchange 65 acres between the Edgemar freeway and the ocean for a 32-acre parcel formed by the junction of Edgemar and Skyline boulevard.

The catalyst for the exchange was an offer from the Henry Doelger firm to agree to annexation by Pacifica of 600 acres, called the Lands of Tharp, to the south of the city.

The annexation could conceivably lead to the largest increase in land in the size of Pacifica since its incorporation in 1957.

The Lands of Tharp parcel is the key to annexation of 2400 acres of land that would bring Pacifica's southern boundary to within a few miles of Montara.

Of the 2400 acres, owners of 1456 acres said they would not object to annexation, owners of 595 acres said they have not decided and owners of 439 acres said they would oppose annexation.

The council, in approving the land trade, also instructed the city staff to study the annexation of the Lands of Tharp.

The land exchange was held up at first because of Daly City's insistence on including 33 acres, called the Globe Wireless property, in the trade and to make the Edgemar freeway a natural boundary line between the cities.

Daly City Mayor Joseph Verducci said the City Council changed its thinking two months ago and agreed to Pacifica's proposal, which was formalized by last week's action.

Pacifica wants to hang on to the 33 acres because it has high rise apartment or office building potential.

Plan Group Turns Down Lumber Yard

Noisy lumber yards and hospitals just don't make good neighbors.

At least this was the feeling of the Daly City Planning commission last week when it turned down a request from Joseph S. Misrack of 99 San Fernando way to build a lumber and building materials yard east of San Fernando way and Santa Paula lane.

The lumber yard would be adjacent to the new Mary's Help hospital, now under construction.

The Daly City council upheld the planning commission's deci- (Please See Page 2, Column 1)

Historic Tanforan To Close

Tanforan, the Peninsula's oldest racing plant and formerly owned by the Marchbanks family of Daly City, will be closed, it was announced last week.

The track has been in operation since the late 1800s.

Racing dates will be divided between Bay Meadows in San Mateo and Golden Gate Fields in Albany — pending the approval of the California Horse Racing board.

The plan, which calls for the complete abandonment of Tanforan as a racing facility, would go into effect with the start of the 1964 racing season.

Tanforan then would probably be sold or developed as a real Estate project, according to observers.

The closing of Tanforan will cost the city of San Bruno about $40,000 annually in license fees and admission taxes. The track is considered an important source of revenue.

Esplanade Owners Will Revive Club

Esplanade homeowners in Pacifica, threatened by erosion of their seaside homes, have decided not to take action on their own but to seek broader support through a homeowners' association.

Max Link, spokesman for the 11 Esplanade residents, said this week that an effort will be made to reactivate the Pacific Manor Homeowners' association. It has been dormant since 1954.

This oranization is not the same as the Manor Village Improvement club, a group serving roughly the same area.

The club is concerned primarily with erosion along Milagra creek and is supporting a proposed city-wide bond issue for drainage work.

Link said the Esplanade homeowners want an organization that will be interested primarily in the seashore erosion problem and be concerned only with a solution to the erosion.

After considerable discussion, the homeowners rejected a plan by a private Santa Cruz engineering firm to build a protecting sea wall arm at a cost of approximately $2000 per homeowner. They also turned down a plan by the city of Pacifica (Please See Page 2, Column 5)

Council Sets Protest Date

The Daly City Council Friday announced its intention to call a special election on the annexation of one block near Callen Heights, designated the "Chester Annexation."

The council will hear any protests against the annexation January 13. There are 18 registered voters in the area.

Santa Turns Sleuth

Santa Claus turned sleuth in the Bayshore section of Daly City Saturday and recovered a missing fire department tree.

Mr. Claus, in this instance, was Daly City Patrolman Charles Phillips. He had been assigned to find out what happened to a brightly decorated white Christmas tree firemen had erected outside of the city's fire station on Geneva avenue.

Phillips, while on patrol in the wee hours Saturday, discovered a trail of white pine needles leading from the trunk of a parked auto to a house about a half mile from the fire station.

He knocked on the door of the house and asked the occupants, who were in the midst of a party at the time, if they knew anything about the missing tree.

After questioning, three men admitted taking the tree for the party and then heaving into their backyard.

At this point the Christmas spirit prevailed.

The trio said they would give the city $10 for the cost of the tree and decorations.

Phillips said he wouldn't make an arrest.

A Second Performance of Good Will

A Christmas good will program, inaugurated last year by employes of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company Plaza information office at 589 Washington street in Broadmoor, was staged again last night.

Two Daly City needy families received Christmas trees, presents, food and cash as a gift from the employes.

One of the families includes nine children. The other family has seven children. The fathers in both families are working but do not earn enough to provide a full Christmas for all members of their families.

In the photo above, three employes of the office hold a portion of the gifts that were distributed. In the background is one of the trees that was given to one of the families.

IN TWO DISTRICTS

Naming of JFK School Deferred

The boards of trustees of two North county school districts, though receptive to naming new schools after the late President John F. Kennedy, have decided to defer a decision at this time.

Laguna Salada trustees, asked by the Fairmont Improvement club to so name a new school under construction on Edgewood drive, have replied that the school's present name, Fairmont, has been used in too many city and state records to change.

Jefferson Elementary trustees at their last meeting deecided to defer until January 6 a decision on whether to name a proposed kindergarten through sixth grade school or a seventh and eighth grade school, both in the planning stages, after President Kennedy.

In replying to the Fairmont Improvement club's request, the Laguna Salada board noted that it has been the practice of the district to name the first school in each new geographical are after the subdivision or area so that the school could be more easily located and identified.

Further, the board said, because of the unique design and educational features of Fairmont school, its name has been widely publicized throughout the state.

Trustees said, however, that two more schools will be built in the Fairmont area in the "forseeable future" and that when they are to be named, the late president's name would be considered.

In the Jefferson board discussion trustee O. Wayne Douglas commented:

"To a certain degree, I shy away from this headlong rush into naming everything after the late president — particularly during the period of national mourning . . .

"Maybe if we reflect on this a bit, it (the naming) would come from deeper in the heart than if we rush into it."

The two Jefferson schools now in the planning stage are a kindergarten through sixth grade facility on Market street at the entrance to the former Crocker estates and a seventh and eighth grade school to be built near the St. Francis Square Shopping center.

Esplanade Group Set

to form an assessment district to shore up the eroding cliff area at a cost of about $5000 per homeowner.

Link said most of the homeowners felt they could not qualify for the additional loans that would increase payments on their homes $40 to $60 monthly.

This week, Pacifica Mayor Harold Feyge announced that President Johnson has signed a congressional bill approving expenditure of $54.000 for a U. S. Army Corps of Engineers study of erosion control along the city shoreline.

Multiple Dwellings Proposed

the construction firm, said if no condemnation proceedings were in effect when the next planning commission meeting is held he hoped the commissioners would act favorable on the rezoning application.

Milton Lipman of 603 St. Francis boulevard said he was opposed to apartment buildings north of his house.

Merchants in the shopping center have indicated they would prefer apartment zoning.

Two other Pedemonte projects in another section of the city were held over for further study.

Planning technician Calvin Malone pointed out several discrepancies in Pedemonte's Gambetta park plan, including 32 undersized lots, 36 and 38-foot turn-around areas, small street widths and a cul-de-sac that is too long.

The other project held over for study was a request for apartment zoning from single family zoning at the end of Vendome street.

Joseph Dziacko of 71 Vendome street presented a petition signed by 25 residents of the area who oppose the rezoning.

Dziacko said the change had been turned down on two previous occasions.

Plan Group Turns Down Lumber Yard

sion in a special meeting Friday.

The business, according to Misrack, would consist of selling, sawing, cutting, planing and sizing lumber. The property, in an unclassfiied district, had a similar use previously.

City Engineer William Chapman told the commisioners that this type of business should belong in a C-2 zone and according to the city's master plan, the property should be zoned for multiple dwelling.

Two residents, Joseph Dziacko of 71 Vendome drive and Del Wilson of 206 Alta Loma way, opposed the use permit

Wilson said the lumber yard would be across the street from single family homes.

The request was forwarded to the city council with the commission's recommendation that it be denied.

The commissioners held over for study a request for a use permit for a 55-foot radio tower at 666 Skyline drive.

John Parris, who filed the applicaiton, said the tower would be used for radio receviing and transmitting, primarily for civil defense purposes and other emergencies.

He said the "excessive" height is required for more reliable and far-reaching operations.

Robert Flickinger, assistant co-ordinator for radio communication for civil defense of the North Peninsula area, said Parris' location is ideal for relaying messages.

Flickinger said the radio tower would not cause interference with home radios, television sets or telephones if it is properly installed and operated.

He said television sets with weak tubes, however, would pick up some interference.

The radio tower would be a three-sided structure with a 24-foot horizontal boom.

Three neighboring residents, Irving Gilbert of 672 Skyline, Robert Moyer of 65 Wavecrest drive and Fernando Guzman of 71 Wavecrest protested plans for the tower.

The residents said the structure would be unattractvie in a residential neighborhood.

The commission approved plans for a supermarket on the north side of Geneva street between Calgary and Rio Verde streets.

The supermarket, to be built by Primo Repetto of San Francisco, has been before the planning commission twice before.

Repetto said the market will have adequate access to parking and lighting on the south side of the property.

He said he would repave both Calgary and Rio Verde streets from Geneva to the north end of the property.

HE NEEDED DISGUISE

Mr. Claus and Fire Prevention

A Santa Claus who wears his beard like a mask and likes to talk about fire prevention was a smash hit hit again this year as far as children at Pacifica's Playschool child day care center, were concerned.

All the children like—and recognize—Fire Marshal Dan Lynch of the Pacifica Fire department who comes monthly to the school to conduct fire drills and sometimes hands out fire chief hats and badges.

So this month when the portly fireman dons a Santa Claus costume and comes bearing gifts at the school's annual Christmas party, he wears a beard, disguising nose, mouth and chin.

"We tried a Halloween-type Santa mask one year," says Mrs. Betsy Day, director of the school, "but the children, two to five years old, were frightened of it.'

"Wee have been looking for a new beard, though, this one is getting a little worn," Mrs. Day explains.

When Santa comes ho-ho-hoing through the front door, the eager little ones have to be restrained from dashing out to look for his sleigh and reindeer and finding only the familiar red fire chief's car.

Lynch, who has four children of his own and has been playing Santa Claus for the nursery school for five years, plays a quiet modest version.

JUHS Board To Be Ready For Surprise

By LOUANNE HEATH

The Jefferson Union High school board of trustees will be prepared for any surprsie move at a meeting of the San Mateo County Augmented Committee on Schools Reorganization January 9.

The trustees at their last session voted to call a special meeting of the board, also for January 9.

The decision was made after some of the trustees expressed concern that some members of the county committee might attempt to introduce new moves into proposals to unify North county schools.

If such an attempt were made, trustees said, the call for a special meeting of the Jefferson board would allow trustees to legally caucus and discuss the new moves.

In other matters, District Superintendent Edward D. Morgan told trustees that enrollment projects at the district's four schools indicate that at some time proir to 1972, the board may have to consider realigning present school boundaries to prevent overcrowding at Jefferson and Westmoor High schools.

Morgan emphasized that such a move, if it is made, would affect only incoming freshmen.

Laguna Unit Also to Hold Special Meet

The Laguna Salada school district has called a special meeting for January 9 to coincide with a meeting of the San Mateo county Augmented committee on schools reoganization.

The special meeting will enable Laguna representatives at the committee session to caucus on developments that arise.

In other matters, the board approved a request to the state allocation board to include monies for a basic library collection in funds the board allocates to equip new schools.

The state group will consider the request January 14.

Superintendent of Schools Fred Lucas reported that Don Coder, chairman of the social sciences division at Terra Nova High school, has requested an opportunity for seniors in civics and American problems classes to attend a board meeting at some future date.

Coder's request that he be mailed copies of the board's meeting agendas to prepare for this program was granted.

Lucas said that other information that would help students understand the function of the board would be made available to them.

In other action, the board accepted a low bid for a contract providing fire insurance district about $2400 compared to that paid in 1962-63.

The contract was awarded to Levinson Brothers at a cost of $.065 per $100 of insurable value. The 1962-63 rate if $.102.

A representative of the insuoror explained that the main reason for the lower rate was improved building planning and materials of construction.

Inez Benedetti of 98 Vale street Daly City, reported to police that a tachometer had been stolen from her car.

PACIFICA 5TH GRADERS

Two Views Of Yuletide

(Editor's Note: Students in the fifth grade at Sanchez school in Pacifica were asked this month to write essays on Christmas. Here are two of those essays, expressing two views of the holiday season.)

By ROBERT HAWKINS

Nowadays, Christmas is just the receiving of gifts. You would think the price of these gifts would be kept a secret. No.

Last year I received a watch and case wrapped in 10½ by 8½ inches paper with this written on it: "Price—$5.98."

Today's Santas are coming out of rockets, Rolls Royces, B-52's and even parachuting out of planes and landing in the Pacific.

My family and I went to San Francisco and Santa sold each of my brothers a pair of skates.

"Good Old Santa," what a sales pitch. He sold my sister a $20 doll and a $15 play dog. Wow. Come on Santa, knock off the advertising.

By LEA de DIEU

Well, what is happening to it (Christmas)? Is it still here? Let's talk about it.

How do you like the Christmas trees? Do you like the pretty green ones or the fake metal ones? Those phonies are very expensive, too. I like the green ones myself. They smell so sweet and fresh.

How about the old jolly, pleasingly plump Santa Claus? People just hire anyone. One or two Santas each season is more than enough. I don't know what kids think about this, but it must be tragic!

Does your family help decorate the Christmas tree? Some families just buy a tree, decorate it, and in the morning open their presents and throw out the tree!

I think that's just nuts. Why buy a tree if you only keep it for one night?

You should go caroling with a group of people on Christmas Eve. That's how they used to do it, so why don't they do it now? Sometimes I just don't know why people change so much!

SCHOOL BOARD ACTS

Bayshore Ends Trash Burning

The Bayshore School district has contracted to have its waste papers and trash burned after being notified by the Bay Area Pollution board that its open field incinerator did not conform with the board's regulations.

Previously, the trash had been burned in an area south of Robertson Intermediate school.

The district contracted with the South San Francisco Scavenger company for removal of the waste materials. The cost will be $55 a month.

In other matters, the district's board of trustees was informed that President Johnson has signed a bill giving school districts aid for educating students whose parents are federal workers or servicemen.

The aid to Bayshore will total about $25,000, according to district Superintendent Natalie Lipman.

The district has a large number of students whose fathers are Navy personnel or who are employed by the government.

Miss Lipman said part of the $25,000 will be used to replace wooden window and door frames at Bayshore school with metal frames.

The superintendent reported the administration had advised Daly City officials that new city maps did not show that two parcels of land in the Midway Village area of Bayshore were owned by the school district.

ONE-MAN DRIVE

Citizen Seeks S.S.F. Overpass

Can one citizen do something toward saving the lives of school children?

The question was partially answered when South San Francisco industrial designer George McLean opened a meeting of school, city, county, and state officials to talk about a pedestrian overpass across El Camino Real at Country Club drive.

"Is one child's life worth $70,000?" he asked.

Answering by their presence were: School Superintendent Dr. Paul Neilsen, City Manager Eugene Aiello, Police Chief John Fabbri, Jerry O'Shea of the state highway department, John Spiker, the county's safety control officer; Mrs. Betty Nichols, local coordinating chairman of safety control efforts; Trustee Roger Hanson, and Trustee Mrs. Lorraine Cooper.

McLean explained that $70,000 was the cost, estimated by state highway engineers, of a pedestrian overpass which could be used by the hundreds of youngsters who daily cross the busy highway.

Noting a realization that it is difficult to protect a "ballooning population," McLean presented residence and enrollment figures collected from the school and the city.

He said "societ fails by ignoring the obligation to schools," when attendance at schools is required by that same society.

McLean said the meeting had been encouraging, and that he thinks "everyone felt the need for safety measures."

The next step in his one-man battle, he said, is to get the state legislature to approve an overpass, which could be built as El Camino widening proceeds.

McLean admits that his interest in safety is caused by a personal near-tragedy. Only a month ago one of his six children was struck by a car at the crossing, although not badly injured.

"Could your child be next, one more highway statistic?" he asks.

WATCHING onetime 49er reject (a familiar category around the NFL) Earl Morrall firing, literally, effective bullet passes during several games this season, we were reminded of the time we said that Morrall could never make it unless he learned to soften his passes.

This was years ago, of course, and Morrall has since, obviously, learned a lot of things—except how not to throw too hard.

The difference between hard and too hard, apparently, depends upon whether or not the passes are caught. So we guess Morrall doesn't throw "too" hard anymore.

Morrall's story points up our theoretical inconsistency on sports at times. We have long berated the baseball manager who takes a fireballing young pitcher with a Herculean arm and makes a slow curve cutie out of him before his time.

This is because the manager doesn't have the patience to help the boy to develop what he already apparently has or to allow maturity and practical experience take their natural courses.

We guess you don't tamper with iron-armed quarterbacks, either. You work on their timing, their distance judgement—allow them to study their receivers and the defensive peculiarities of opponents. It's the same as you help a baseball pitcher with his pacing, his pick-off moves, and all the other niceties of pitching as opposed to throwing.

You help with the little things, but keep hands off the basic element—the fine arm and its natural inclination to fire.

A short interruption in the football scene to discuss baseball and a horrifying thought that occurred to us (and which must have been considered by the Giants) at the moment we heard of the Alou trade and the disclosure that Dark and Stoneham were about ready to stand pat in trade deals now and go along with Jimmy Davenport's switch to second base.

We were rather brokenhearted when Kansas City's fine second sacker, Jerry Lumpe, went to Detroit and when it was later disclosed that the A's had offered the Giants Lumpe and any two pitchers the Giants named in exchange for Alou.

Not that we feel that Davenport couldn't eventually make a fine second-baseman. But we must assume that the Giants want that pennant next year and one year may be too soon for a third baseman with virtually no second base experience to make the switch complete—no matter what his talent.

There is also the factor—and this is the horrifying thought we mentioned above—of Davenport's wobbly knees. Jim's had a history of leg trouble at third and legs take no greater battering than at second base.

Another factor involved in the Giants' refusal to trade for a sound major league second sacker is the one that dictates that rookie Jim Ray Hart MUST come through at third base if the Giants are to have a real shot at the pennant.

True, Hart's credentials are marvelous, and they say he's completely over his beanings. But it may be asking too much of Hart to overcome the usual rookie nerves, plus the proving of himself to every knock-'em-down pitcher in the league, plus having to take the place of a truly fine third baseman (Davenport), plus having to do all of this for a team that will have pennant pressure on it.

The Giants went a long way toward losing the pennant last year because they completed fewer double plays than any team in the majors. If you ask us, they'll be worse in that department in '64 even if Davenport comes through.

Teams all over the majors are constantly looking for ways to shore up infield defenses because most baseball men realize that a leaky infield usually causes pennant-hopefuls to sink.

Yet, Dark and Stoneham expect the Giants to win with a rookie at third (and admittedly mediocre defensively), an overrated (in our opinion) shortstop, and a week-kneed, converted third baseman at second.

Well boys, we don't know what good Shaw and Hendley will do with their best double-play pitches bouncing through the infield.

WE HOPE the local prep football season has now been over long enough to permit quick coagulation of wounds, and that some basketball people are broad-minded, for we are about to discuss why neither Terra Nova nor Oceana will win in football and basketball for a very long time.

One aspect of prep sports about which fans seldom think is facilities—and this is where the Coastside schools are [illegible]id.

No matter how natural an athlete a boy may be, he will have a difficult time in improving himself if the facilities for practice are unavailable.

This is why, for instance, California habitually sends more boys to the baseball major leagues than any other state. California kids aren't better baseball players than New York kids. They just have year-around weather conducive to the practice of baseball and more available open spaces.

Aside from the high school fields, there are no other adequate facilities in Pacifica for football. Nor is there anything comparable to Pop Warner leagues.

There are virtually no indoor basketball courts, aside from the ones in the schools themselves (and they are not always available), and, consequently, no pee-wee teams well enough coached or organized so that youngsters may develop.

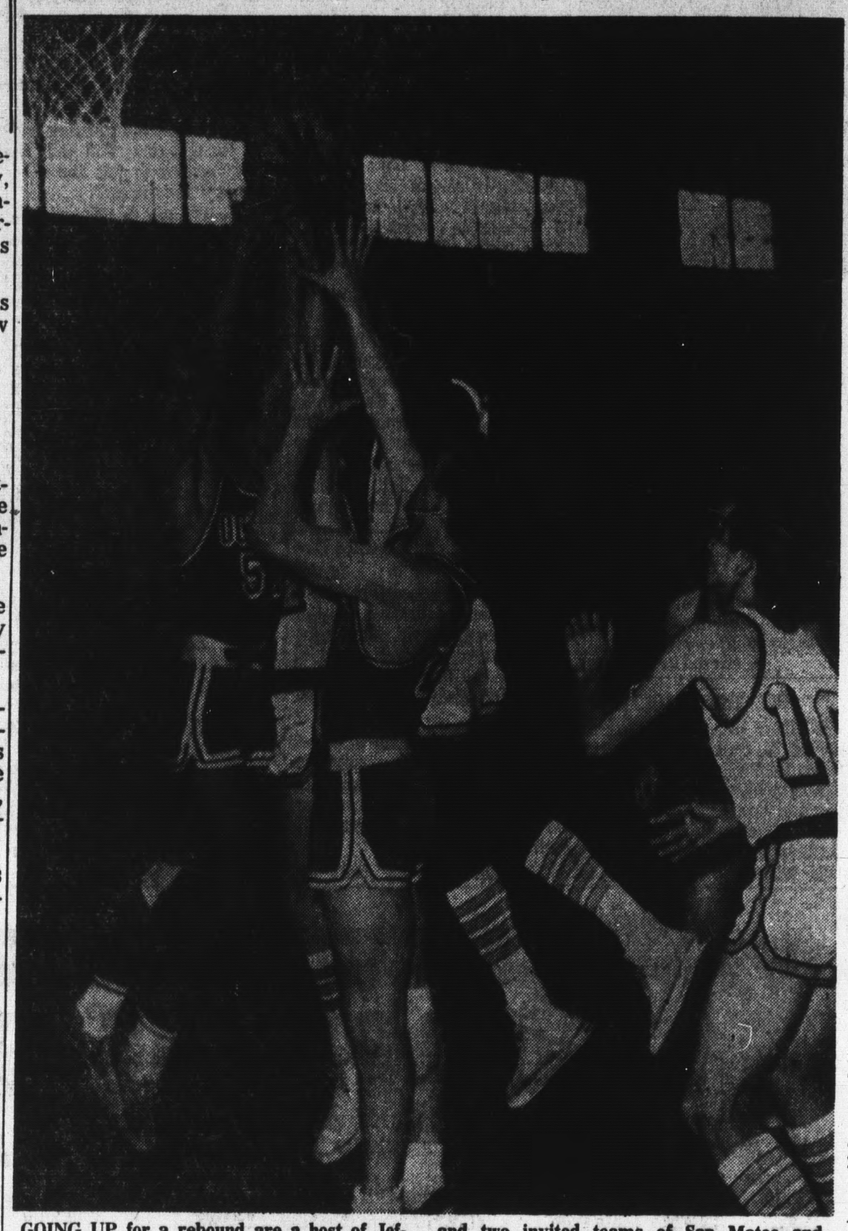
There is hope for Pacifica kids in other sports. Terra Nova and Oceana will always be tough to beat in golf, baseball, swimming and track.

Kids from the Pacifica area have the golfing facilities. They have the ocean. They have well organized and coached Little league and Babe Ruth league sit-ups and the facilities to go with them.

As for track, running and jumping can be done any place but kids of Pacifica have the terrain plus the benefit of few pampering parents who give them automobiles for their fourteenth birthdays.

Until certain mentioned things change in Pacifica, this will be the pattern for years. Strong in golf, track, swimming, and baseball. Woeful in football and weak in basketball.

Sad but true.



GOING UP for a rebound are a host of Jefferson and Oceana players. The action was typical of the action between the six lightweight teams of the North Peninsula league and two invited teams of San Mateo and Carlmont. In this game, Jefferson beat Oceana 56-32. San Mateo took the tournament title by edging Westmoor, 49-48. (Post-Times Photo.)

Bearcats Tip Westmoor for First Title

The San Mateo Bearcats edged the Westmoor Rams 49-48 in the closing minutes of the championship game Saturday to win the title in the first annual Jefferson Lightweight Invitational tournament.

In the battle for third place Jefferson squeaked by Carlmont 54-52. South San Francisco tipped El Camino 45-43 and Terra Nova beat Oceana in the other games played Saturday.

Westmoor missed two opportunities to regain the lead and San Mateo two chances to cinch the victory in a hectic last minute of play.

San Mateo rebounded two missed shots by Westmoor and when fouled in the ensuing action, both Ron Farley and Bill Doctolera missed free throws.

The game was close all the way with the teams tied 13-13 at the quarter and 25-25 at the half. The Rams had only a one-point lead at the three-quarter mark.

A Jefferson stall in the last minute and a 20-foot jump shot by Captain Tom Snodgrass with 10 seconds remaining gave the Indians their close 54-52 victory over Carlmont in the battle for third.

The Indians were down 30-27 at the half, but a strong 15-point output in the third quarter gave them the lead. Carlmont came back to tie it 52-all with one minute to go.

Carlmont's Dan Cicero put on a one-man scoring show with 26 points, or half of his team's total output.

South San Francisco's Steve Marchand hit a 10-foot jump shot to cinch the Warrior victory over crosstown rival El Camino.

Marchand and tournament scoring champ Eddie Richenbacker led the scorers with 12 and 15 points, respectively.

The Warriors jumped to an early lead and were never caught by the Colts. El Camino kept close, outscoring the Warriors in both the third and fourth quarters to come within two points of a tie.

Another crosstown rivalry occurred when the Terra Nova Tigers met the Oceana Sharks.

The Sharks took an early 16-11 lead in the quarter, but the Tigers came on strong to tie it up at the half 25-25. Terra Nova's 16-point output in the third quarter won it as the two teams traded baskets in the final stanza.

Ron Guess led the scorers with 20 points.

NORTH COUNTY SPORT SCENE

All-Tourney Team

Ten players were chosen to the All-Tournament team by coaches participating in the First Annual Jefferson Lightweight Invitational tournament.

Heading the list is South San Francisco forward Ed Richenbacker, who set two records in the three day basketball tourney. Richenbacker's 32 points against Terra Nova in the second game established the individual scoring record.

He had a 63 point total for a 21 point average in setting the over-all scoring record.

The other players are:
Bob Folger—Oceana
Glenn Seivert—Terra Nova
Dennis Seivert — El Camino
Chuck Howard — San Mateo
Dan Cicero—Carlmont
Ron Farley—San Mateo
Jim Belfrage—Jefferson
Dave Nelson—Westmoor
Tony Bento—Westmoor

Burlingame Tops Indians

CSM Offers Ticket Plan

Take the family to a season of top junior college basketball games at the Peninsula's finest gymnasium this winter: That's the opportunity presented by College of San Mateo's new family season ticket for basketball.

The single three-dollar ticket admits two adults plus children of one household under 21 to all seven of CSM's Golden Gate conference games at College Heights in January and February.

The new San Mateo gym features 1500-capacity bleacher seats with unique padded backs for extra comfort. The large regulation court (94x50 feet) is outlined by a two and a half-foot blue border which makes it considerably easier for spectators to follow sideline play.

Serra Bowl

THERE WERE a batch of fine games and series bowled this past week at our recreation center. In the 835 Scratch league Wednesday, Cornell Gatewood with 220, 219, 187 — and Frank Mazzella with a booming 243 tied for high series honors with a pair of 623's. Not too far back was Gary Neil wiht a very neat 611.

Nearby in the Wednesday Masters handicap, Don Hall was taking the place apart with a fat 256 game. In the Twilightrs Mixed fives, the leaders were Rich Hackett with 214, and Ted Lambertson with 575. Bob Greeno of the Tuesday Boozers punched out a fine 220-617 effort to lead his league.

In the Sportsmen's handicap it was Jim Colvin at 234 and Frank Machi with a nice 582. Karl Adams of the Lutheran Mixed fives led his troup with 221-591 for the evening.

In the 750 Nightowls, Frank Lee carved out a clean 222 and Henry Bonaparte was the series leader with a 591. In the All-Stars, big Tom Lavin (and I call 6-7, 260 pounds big) shot a 226-589. Jim Schon of the Amigos Mixed fives matched Tom with an identical 589. Frank Siri, bowling in the State Comp fives, was high for his league with a solid 222-567 job on Monday evening. Over in the Metropolitan Mixed fives, Don Gee led the pack with 207-575.

Don't forget to plan on attending Serra bowl's third annual New Year's Eve party. Tickets are now on sale at the bowl for $12.50 and include free parking, hat and coat checking, all the prime rib dinner you can eat, unlimited bowling, dancing to the Dave Larsen trio, and all you can drink. The party is limited in number so make your reservations early and pick up your tickets soon.

IN THE LIONS Men's handicap league, Sam Kallas at 236 and Gene Coburn with a 597 for three were the toppers in their group. Barney Crosby, who also doubles as secretary in the Wednesday Automative league, was series leader in the Monday night 813 scratch league with his 562. Jack Thur took high game honors with his 226.

Westlake Bowl

OUR CONGRATULATIONS to Ruth Noll of the Kings and Queens 850 Scratch league who took first place in Class A of the San Francisco Bowlers Victory Legion rolloff. Ruth rolled games of 216-189-161-202 for a 768 total to win the right to represent San Francisco in the state rolloff in Santa Rosa in March.

Alice Nyberg topped the 200 mark for the first time of her career as she rolled a 209 game in the Starliters league. Doris Cunningham took high series with 501.

Chuck York really exploded in the Canco league Monday night with a terrific 257 game and 671 series.

Another high roller Monday night was Ron Chan as he shot a 236 game and 655 series in the 815 Scratch league.

Laurel Lausman left no doubt as to who took lady bowler of the week honors as she rolled a tremendous 590 series on games of 204-154-232—a mere 209 pins over her 127 average. Fellow YWCA bowlers in the Tuesday morning league gave her a standing round of applause.

The magic number Tuesday night was 566 as Harold Cassidy led the Early Fives and Bob Belluomini led the Country Club handicap. Harold rolled a 229 high game while Bob's best effort was a 200 game.

Another Westlaker breaking the 600 barrier was Tom Smith as he led the Blue Monday Scratch league with a 214 game and 611 series.

Mary Dudley and Terry Warde shared honors in the Tuesday morning St. Emydius Mothers' Guild league as Mary rolled a 176 game and Terry a 462 series. Split converters were Carrie Futrell, 3-7-8, Peg Nurisso, 5-10 and Lee Rentschler, 5-10.

Tony Greco rolled a 201 game and 583 series as he topped the 805 Scratch league for the week.

IN THE third annual bowling tournament of the San Francisco Coaches association, Al Elchinoff took first prize with a "blind average" total of 614. Bob Sargent took second place with 597 as over 50 San Francisco high school and junior high school coaches competed.

Now in progress at Westlake are the two bowlers tournaments that annually give bowlers of all averages the opportunity to win large cash prizes for a low entry fee. These are the Northern California Bowling Proprietors' association Men's and Women's Team Handicap tournament.

The local eliminations now under way are the first step leading to the national championships that will be held in June for women and in August for men. Local eliminations for women end January 12 and for the men, March 1. Any five ABC or WIBC bowlers may form a team to compete.

For the second consecutive week, Mel Mosk led the B'nai B'rith league, this time with a 186 game and 528 series.

Hank Joost again led the Golden Gate Handicap league, shooting a 233 game and 561 series.

In the Native Sons league, George Estrada set the pace with a 210 game and 561 series.

In the Native Sons league, George Estrada set the pace with a 210 game and 575 series.

Isabelle McPherson with 181-534 and George Freyslaben with 214 and 556 led the Southgate Mixed Fives for the week.

Rose Intaschi took high game honors and Flo Bertsch led in the series department for the A-1 Nursery league as Rose rolled a big 198 and Flo a 518. Split converters were Marie Belnap 5-7, Pat Garcia 8-9, Ruth Xavier 5-10, Maxine Sweat 3-10, and Doris Cunningham 5-7.

Sea Bowl

I WANT to extend my warmest wishes to you during the holiday season. Hope Santa is very liberal with all of you. My children are giving me a box of dirt this year, seems that I haven't been a good girl of late. I've really been a shrew, with Christmas shopping, working going to parties and all I'm unnerved. Please get your New Year reservations in soon, time is running out.

Betsy Gardner bowling on the Bowlerettes league, really became a celebrity this week when she bowled a 235-190-214 for the series of 639. This was the highest series bowled in the house for the week. Aquanots: High game and series Arletta Ackerman with a 179-503. Dot Statton had the first turkey.

Original No. 1 Pizza had the high team game and high team series of 588-1728. Mermaids: Marty Parker of the City Tire team was the leading lady of the league for both game and series with a 191-494. Gayle Harris picked up the 6-7 split. Beachcombers: Fred Lake, bowling on the Linda Mar Cleaners team bowled a beautiful 232-608 for both game and series. Jane Carver 209-568.

Wednesday Men's 775: Carl Fontana topped the league for the series with a 210-565. Al Saxen shot high for the game of 222. Bob Serrano bowling on the Mixed Masters league was sporting the game and series of 194-570. Emil Hill 184-542. The Keglerettes league was highlighted by Dot Bayard having the big series of the day with a 459. High game, Thelma Corcorran 173.

Thursday Ladies Scratch: Ellen Feight had the high game of the day, 198, and Judy Massburg had the high series of 187-512. On the Sea Bowl Classic league, Chuck Reynolds chalked up the big game and series with a 234-620. Happy New Year!

SSF Tries New Tactics

New Players Cause Shift In Strategy

By RON BATES

THE SOUTH San Francisco Warriors will be playing a more deliberate game than last year when they take to the courts in this year's basketball wars in the North Peninsula league.

Coach Joe Schroeder, in his third year at the helm of the Warriors, will have to alter the tactics that brought his team to within a game of taking the title last year.

Because they've lost some key personnel through graduation, the Warriors will rely more on a control game than the fast break.

Last year, the Warriors led the league in both offense and defense. Missing from the lineup this season are All-League forwards Dave Parenti and Rich Mozzini who were the league's second and third highest scorers with 16.9 and 15.4 point averages.

Also missing is the Warriors top defensive guard and playmaker Neil McNevin.

THE ONLY veteran with a sizeable amount of game experience is forward Larry Cervelli who started at times and saw action as a reserve, last season.

Two other returnees, who saw limited action are Chris Torp and Ron Renes.

Schroeder said Renes has been doing the best job on the boards in rebounding in practice games played to date.

One bright prospect for the Warriors is guard Greg Jones, a sophomore who made all-league fullback on the football team.

Jones is an all-around athlete with good moves and has taken the role of playmaker for the team.

He has been one of the Warriors' most consistent scorers in the practice games.

A TRANSFER student from Serra High school, guard Ron Benetti, also is expected to help when he becomes eligible to play after the semester break.

He is expected to crowd John Moro for a starting role with Jones.

Forward-center Bob Skinner, a junior up from the B-squad, has been another consistent scorer for the Warriors. Skinner hit 16 in a losing effort this fall against Woodrow Wilson High school.

Jim Henry, a forward, has been showing streaks, including a 12-point effort in the first game of the season, and may give the Warriors the balanced attack they need.

EARNING A starting slot at center is Dave Haskins, 6-2.

Also expected to see action are guard Lou Vasco, a senior up from the C-squad; forward John Francis, a junior, and center Ray Garibaldi.

Schroeder says his team will be trying to get "as much experience as we can" but that this year could be termed "a building year."

"We'll win," he said, "but Westmoor seems to have all the horses."

He expects Westmoor and Jeff to square off for the title, but adds El Camino may surprise.

Sugar 'n' Spice

By Nell Norton

ARE YOU all through with your Christmas cooking, Christmas wrapping put away, sewing all finished, and baking done? Did I hear hysterical laughter I know. I know, you are still thinking what in the world you should have got for Uncle Joe (who's rich and has everything), and Aunt Sally (who's so hard to please), not to mention Cousin Clementine (whose hobby is ducks). Don't be dismayed, we are all in the same boat, and I know we'll bring it safely to shore under the tree this Christmas morning.

Sad but true that in the middle of all this hustle and bustle we still have to plan meals and cook them and even take time to eat them. I can't do much about Uncle Joe or Aunt Sally but I can help you think of something different for dinner. I am indebted to the California Beef council for these recipes.

CHINESE STEW

2 pounds beef chuck, cubed
1 teaspoon salt
1½ tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons salad oil
3 medium-sized onions, thinly sliced
3 stalks celery, cut in fine strips
5 water chestnuts, thinly sliced
2 green peppers, sliced in strips
6 whole mushrooms, sliced

Dust meat with salt and flour. Heat one tablespoon of the oil in a heavy saucepan or Dutch oven. Add meat and brown slowly on all sides. Cover tightly and cook over very low heat about one hour until meat is tender.

Add a little water if necessary to keep meat from sticking to pan. In a heavy skillet, heat remaining oil. Add vegetables; cover and cook slowly just until soft, about 10 minutes. Add vegetables to meat. Serves 6.

WHAT IS YOUR attitude toward sauerkraut? Love it? Hate it? Like it? Never touch it? A firend told me? she always serves it as a side dish on Thanksgiving. That's a new one to me, but the world is full of new menu ideas and that's what keeps me going in this business. If you are a sauerkraut lover or liker or if you have simply never tried it, here's a recipe using meat balls with sauerkraut.

MEAT BALLS WITH SAUERKRAUT

1 pound ground beef chuck
¼ cup dry fine bread crumbs
¼ cup water
1 tablespoon catsup
¼ cup finely chopped onion
1 teaspoon horseradish
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 egg, slightly beaten
4 tablespoons salad oil or bacon fat

Combine all ingredients except oil. Shape into 1½ to two-inch balls. Heat oil in a heavy skillet. Add meatballs, cook and turn until browned. Drain on absorbent paper. Makes about 20 balls.

1 can sauerkraut (17 ounces)
2 medium-sized apples, pared, cored and quartered
1 tablespoon finely chopped onion
2 tablespoons dark brown sugar
1 tablespoon wine vinegar
One-eighth teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon caraway seeds

Heat oven to 350 degrees. Combine all ingredients. Place in a 1½ quart casserole. Arrange meat balls on sauerkraut. Cover. Bake one hour. Serves four.

WE NEVER TIRE of new ideas in cakes. Even ideas that are not so new can be a joy when we've neglected a cake for a long time. This Queen Elizabeth cake is so good and really easy to make. Why not give it a try I'm sure you must have some dates and nuts left from all that Christmas baking.

QUEEN ELIZABETH CAKE

1 cup chopped dates
1 teaspoon soda
1 cup boiling water

Pour the cup of boiling water over the cup of dates and the teaspoon soda; let stand while the following is mixed:

1 cup sugar
¼ cup butter
1 egg, beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
1¼ cups sifted flour
One-third teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
One-third cup pecans

Cream sugar and shortening, add egg and vanilla; then add remaining dry ingredients. Combine with the water and dates and pour into greased 9 by 12 pan. Bake in 350 degree oven for 35 minutes.

ICING

5 tablespoons brown sugar
2 tablespoons butter
5 tablespoons half and half
Dash salt

Boil together for 3 minutes and spread on cake. Garnish with nuts if desired. Neither icing nor cake has to be cool before icing is spread on cake.

Meeting Has Crowded Program

The December meeting of Crocker-Pershing P-TA was crowded to capacity to enjoy the selections of the Glee club and the Wee Singers of Crocker school.

The Glee club, under the direction of Lauren Abernathy, presented "Bell Round" "White Christmas," "Deck the Halls," "Carol of the Drum," "Indian Christmas Carol," and "O Come All Ye Faithful."

An instrumental trio, under the direction of Mr. Richard Snyder, played "Angels From the Realm of Glory" and "Up on the Housetop."

The Wee Singers of Crocker school, are students ni the first, second, and third grades, under the direction of Mrs. Robert Ceragoli presented "My Dreydle," "Away in a Manger," "Jingle Bells," "Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindder," and "Silent Night." The youngsters sang "Silent Night" ni Germah.

At a brief business meeting, the unit voted to send $50 to the hot lunch program of the Jefferson Elementary School district, and $50 to the student welfare fund.

Solemn Ceremony

FIRST YEAR celebration of Brownie Troop 511 and the investiture of seven new members to the troop was held at Olympia school. Receiving their first year pin were Cindi Budea, Michele Cecena, Crystal Chalmers, Cathy Davis, Debbie Glass, Lenore Hough, Nancy Klotz, Nancy Luders, Lexi Morgan, Robin Sousa and Cathy Themoleas. The seven new girls are Debbie Borghello, Sharon Cohen, Susan Miller, Nadine Monto, Cynthia Picchi, Peggy Ryan and Tammi Walters. Troop leaders are Mrs. Herbert Luders and Mrs. Joseph Cecena. Mrs. Cecena was invested as girl scout at the ceremony.

Paper Drive Is Scheduled

Another paper drive is planned by the Mater Dolorosa Men's club Saturday and Sunday, chairman Larry O'Neill, 19 Graystone drive, South San Francisco, is available at PL 6-4486 for pickups.

The vans will be parked at the church at Miller and Willow streets in South San Francisco for deposits.

Court St. Mary Forms World Mission Circle

To broaden activity in the Catholic Daughters' of America world missions program, a "mission circle" was organized in Court St. Mary, of Daly City, recently at the home of Mrs. Carl Rollandi by Mrs. DeWitt Brunson of Burlingame, archdiocesan chairman of world missions.

Present were Mrs. Laurence DeFanti, world missions chairman for Court St. Mary; Mrs. Maurice Clark, grand regent, and Mrs. Louise Baarnard, Mr Gallegher, Mrs. Harvey Mumford and Mrs. Rollandi.

Mrs. Brunson detailed the various needs and ways to participate.

Of special interest was the "multi-purpose food plan" whereby meals and special nourishment for millions are made possible by generous contributions from the American people through the "Meals for Millions" organization and distributed by missionary programs.

The ourse grained food supplement is a high protein fortified multi-purpose type that comes in three different formulas, one of which "looks like sawdust and tastes like turkey dressing." It may be chewed as is, or mixed in with all dishes.

Three cents a day buys a meal for hungry undernourished people in areas of the United States as well as places the world over.

The mission circle will meet once a month aisde from the bi-monthly meetings of the court. The next is scheduled for January 17, 1 p.m. at the home of Mrs. James Gallegher. Hospital gowns will be made from used shirts, sheets utilized in cancer pads and leper bandages and cancelled stamps will be packaged for shipment to missionaries.

The next meeting of Court St. Mary will be at 8 p.m, January 2, at Our Lady of Perpetual Help hall.

Engaged

PENELOPE LYNN TWEEDIE

Penelope Lynn Tweedie, Gerald Manis Will Wed

The engagement of Penelope Lynn Tweedie and Gerald Edmund Manis was announced by the bride-to-be's parents, Rev. and Mrs. Herbert C. Tweedie, at a family dinner Saturday in the Tweedie home at 1116 Nimitz drive, Daly City.

The couple graduated from Westmoor High school in 1961 and both are now attending San Francisco State college.

Miss Tweedie is majoring in elementary education. She plans to obtain her teaching credentials. Manis is majoring in business.

The wedding is planned after their graduation in 1965.

Attending the dinner were the groom-to-be's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Manis of 211 Village Lane, Colma; his sister, Connie, and his brother, Steve.

Also present were Tim and James Tweedie, brothers of the bride-to-be; her grandmother, Mrs. Ella Schlatter and her aunt, Mrs. Rex Jameson.

Garden Village In Yule Fete

Garden Village school presented its annual Christmas program, last week in the multi-purpose room.

The Christmas program began after a short business meeting, held by Mrs. Jack Mitchell president of Garden Village P-TA.

Mrs. Edna Black directed the fifth and sixth grade Glee club, which sang "Merry Christmas Round," 'Wind Through the Olive Trees," Sing Gloria," "Spin My Top," "O Holy Night," and "White "Jingle Bells," was presented in four interpretations.

Consultant Gives Talk On Psychology

Donald Sagner, guidance consultant of the Jefferson Elementary School district, spoke at the Abraham Lincoln P-TA meeting on the old and new areas of psychology.

Program chairman was Mrs. William Schuler.

Sagner said the attitude of the district towards the use of psychologists in the schools was of the modern concept of "involved relationship."

The psychologist doesn't categorize the child but takes all the aspects of a specific child such as IQ, home life, drive, learning ability and classroom interests. Then he acts as a consultant, working out the problems with parent and child.

Sagner emphasized parental acceptance of a child's potential is a prime requisite in aiding a child.

Kindergarten and second grade mothers were hostesses for the evening.

ROSINA MAZZONI, Grand Arch Druidess of California and Nevada, will make an official visit to the Daly City Druids group at 8:15 p.m. Monday, January 13, in the Daly City Eagles Hall. The group will install new members.

YLI Party Held

Our Lady of the Visitacion Young Ladies' Institute 190 had a Christmas party and dinner at Castle Lanes.

Decorations were sold and proceeds placed in the convent funds project.

Chariman of the evening will be Mrs. Vincent Cotruvo.

Group Holds Silver Tea

The Women's Missionary Society of the Westlake Community Baptist church had a silver tea and annual Christmas party at the home of Mrs. H. Hansel Stembridge last week.

A short program was conducted by Mrs. Lynn Hodges who brought a copy of the Bethlehem News reporting in modern news form of the Birth of Christ and a copy of nature's snow portrait of the Saviour actually photographed at the time it happened after a snowstorm.

Mrs. Beatrice Batz read two poems and the meeting adjourned for refreshments.

The hostess served a candlelight buffet of assorted fruit cakes, ambrosia, nuts, mints, and tea and coffee.

Beta Sigma Phi To Host Meet

Psi Epsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi will hostess the Northern Peninsula Inter-City Council on January 8, 1964, at the home of Mrs. Jack McCawley in South San Francisco.

A Christmas party was held at the home of Mrs. Charles Jackson. William Gamba of Daly City was the recipient of the Christmas Cheer Package, which had been donated by Petty Realty of South San Francisco, for the benefit of Mary's Help hospital.

The next meeting for the chapter will be on January 13, 1964, at the home of Mrs. C. M. Sheridan. The program will be "Nature" given by Mrs. Robert Orth.

Louanne's Datebook

By Louanne Heath

THE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT, it has been said, is a youthful state of mind and if this is a true assessment, then perhaps those who will enjoy this Christmas most are the members of the Westlake Senior Citizens club.

Approximately 60 of the club's members were on hand last week for the group's annual Christmas luncheon and gift exchange in the social hall of the Westlake Community Baptist church and everyone seemed about to bubble over with the gay and festive spirit of the holidays.

Mrs. Willard Wagner was chairman of the luncheon committee that prepared a delightful repast—from punch and canapes to rich fruit cake and bright orange persimmons. Millie Machens was chief cook for the affair and the chicken salad sandwiches, colorful gelatin salad and tartly pleasing lemon jello cake were all the products of her kitchen. Mrs. Machens and Mrs. Wagner were ably assisted by Hazel Clarey, Emaline Wynn, Alse Marx, and Mildred Lockard and the chief decorators, Homer Morrison and Willard Wagner.

Morrison and Wagner provided the finishing Christmas. Ball red candles decorated the tables and sprays of holly concealed the bases of the candleabra. Members were given favors at their plates and gifts were distributed later to all from beneath an old fashioned green tree.

Despite the cold weather outdoors, there was too much warmth and friendship within the hall for the members to even worry about the discomfort of the trip to and fro.

WESTLAKE RESIDENT, Fred Norris, has been returned to St. Joseph's hospital in San Francisco for the second time in recent weeks.

MRS. NANCY FINKIN and daughters left Pacifica last Friday to reunite with the family in time for the Christmas holiday.

Roland Finken departed earlier to assume his new post with the Bureau of Internal Revenue in Los Angeles and has established a new home for the family in the Northridge section of that city.

THE BUSY MOTHERS of the Pacifica Co-Operative Nursery are working hard this week finishing up their fund-raising project.

The women contracted to do gift wrapping in Sears Roebuck's Geary street store in San Francisco and all the profits are being turned over to the school.

Executive board ways and means chairman Diane Lund is general chairman of the project and Mrs. Joann Doverspike, executive board president, has assisted with the organization of the project.

MR. AND MRS. OLIVER PAYTON of Pacifica hosted the annual Tau Gamma chapter Sigma Phi husbands and wives Christmas buffet and party in their home last weekend.

Ten members and their husbands attended the party as did prospective members Mrs. Archie Wilson and Mrs. Dean Gatton and their spouses.

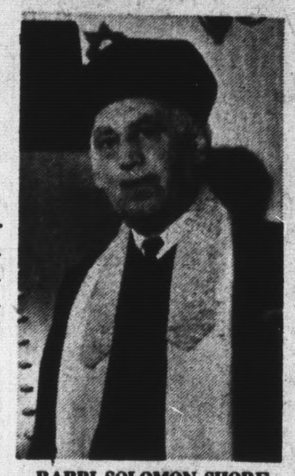
The Festival of Lights

(Editor's note — Christmas is basically a Christian holiday, but the Jewish community has a holiday almost coinciding called Chanukah. Rabbi Solomon Shore of Congregation B'nai Israel writes about the holiday.)

By RABBI S. G. SHORE



RABBI SOLOMON SHORE

MILLIONS of Jews all over the world have finished celebrating the most joyous festival of the year—Chanukah—also known as the "Festival of Lights."

Its origin comes to us from books and scrolls written long ago, yet every yar it becomes a vivid and most impressive pageant once again as young and old re-enact the heroic saga of yesteryear.

The historical background was ancient Israel where a peaceful people were tilling the soil—attending their flocks of sheep and cattle—and above all serving God as no other people ever did before. Farmers and city dwellers alike took to the schools of Jewish learning whenever free time permitted them to do so.

THE HOLY TEMPLE in Jerusalem with its vast number of priests and Levites—and the great acadamies which were clustered around the Holy City attracted tens of thousands of Jewish young men, who were thirsty for knowledge and for the teachings of the great rabbis. They were engaged in religious lore and in the interpretation of the vast number of Jewish law.

The lived peacefully in their land, worshipping the God of Israel—teaching loving kindness and brotherhood to their fellow men and practicing charity among themselves.

From time to time news would reach them that a mighty empire had arisen in Greece which forces their forces their power and their heathen mode of living upon the people around them.

They were fully aware of the mission which the ancient Greeks had set out to accomplish: the subjugation of the entire region of Asia.

AS TIME went on, all nations surrounding Israel were subjugated by the Greeks by force of arms and many legions of Greek soldiers were stationed within the borders of these neighboring countries.

Greek power and influence had been on the rise ever since Alexander the Great. Country after country gave up both their land and their way of life.

Israel was the only country in the world which lived by a set pattern of life called Judaism. The Hebrews were very devoted to their laws and customs and they were ready to fight for their freedom.

SYRIA, a neighboring country of Israel, which became thoroughly saturated with Greek ideas, tried to force Israel to accept the Greek ways of life. Antiochus, at that time the ruler of the entire Middle East, began to issue command after command to the people of Israel that they better give up their Jewish way of life and accept Greek customs and religious beliefs.

No longer were the Israelites to keep the Sabbath.

No longer were they permitted to send their children to study God's laws and precepts.

They were not even allowed to speak their own language, Hebrew.

What angered the Jews most was the atrocious action on the part of the Greeks: the slaughtering of a pig on the altar in the Holy temple, which was a direct prohibition of the Bible.

SOME JEWS in ancient Israel did not take the Greek commands very seriously; others saw in these commands a real threat to the annihilation of an entire people.

The political situation in Israel became very tense, the religious Jews began to follow the advice and leadership of an old priest named Mettathian—of a noble Jewish family. They would meet secretly to lay plans for daily conduct—soon—the old man and his five sons realized that a whole army of Jews were ready for battle. They gathered in the caves and among the hills surrounding Jerusalem and began to attack the Greeks at night.

This led to total war with the Greek armies—and a formal struggle ensued.

THE JEWISH army under the leadership of Judah of the five sons of the old priest who had died during the war—fought until the entire country of Israel — then called Judea was freed from the Greeks. These fighters called — Maccabees — cleansed the Holy temple and began to restore normal Jewish life again.

While in the temple — they were sarching for oil to fill up the Eternal Light—but had found just a little crucible of oil.

This little bit of oil, however, lasted eight days. The Jews saw in this miracle an act of God and that is why Jewish people the world over celebrate the Festival of Lights for eight days.

JEWS in America spend a great deal of time, talent and energy on this holiday. Children especially love Chanukah because they receive gifts from their loved ones every single night.

Formal Chanukah dances are arranged and beautiful ceremonies are being conducted in tthe synagogues while lighting these candles.

Social parties are arranged for friends and neighbors with "potato pancakes" as a treat and all kinds of games are being played, especially 'dreidel' which brings fun and laughter to all.

Chanukah is a religious holiday — and it commemorates the first battle in history for the preservation of religious freedom.

Yule Spirit Got to Thief

The Christmas spirit apparently got to a thief at Jefferson high school last week. officials report.

A tape recorder, reported stolen by school administrators from an audio visual room, was back in its usual place without a trace of who had returned it.

Teenager Asks . . .

By JOE BAVARESCO

Usually I answer letters. But today I'd like to be a little different because I'm getting a little sick and tired of people telling me that teen-agers aren't worth the powder . . .

Last week I saw a group of teen-agers coming out of an old-age home. They were a group of teen-agers who decided to do something for someone else this Christmas.

Though they were not a professional Glee club, they sang Christmas carols to the old people in hospitals and homes for the aged.

They had nothing to give but their time and talent. I asked them what their reactions were and here's what they told me:

Jewell Welsh—"I came today because I wanted to. Most of these old people have no one and I have so much that I wanted to give them the attention and a little happiness they are so in need of.

"It was my Christmas gift to them and you know, by making them happy it made me happy."

Marie Bourgois — "Christmas is the season of sharing. I speak a little Italian so I talked to an Italian lady and she was so thrilled, I felt I had shared my Christmas with some one.

"I realized God has given me so much and that the least I could do is share my Christmas with others less fortunate."

Carol Swanson — "They look so bare and lonely. I felt I wanted to do something. They need so much. But most of all they need someone to take an interest in them individually.

"I wanted to do so much but it made me happy to see them smile and see their eyes light up."

Martha Peet — "They were like children. They need love. When we went in, they were deep in their own world. When we left, they seemed gay and in a brighter mood. This was my Christmas present—just to see them happy."

Pat Smith—"I have grandparents and it gave me a warm feeling inside. Kind of makes you realize that Christmas is really giving, not receiving and that's where the joy comes in."

Trudy Nutman — "Christmas is giving, not of tangibles but of the intangibles like love and attention. In a group like this one we made up, you can do something for some one else. On your own, you are kind of limited. I feel bad, because I can't do more."

Jeanne Myer—"Christmas is mostly for youth and this is too bad because most people forget what Christmas is.

"So in my own way, I am giving of myself as a youth because I have more to give.

"As we get older, we have a greater understanding of the true meannig of Christmas. And as youths, we have time and energy to give and we should give."

Jane Presta—"One lady told me it was the first time she had smiled. It was Christmas to watch their faces light up. It was as exciting as lighting a Christmas tree."

Mrs. Rollins, adult advisor to the group: "The group did this on their own. They were not asked to. They just felt like sharing Christmas. Singing is happiness.

"This is the season of do unto others. It was thrilling to watch these kids and of course, it made me proud.

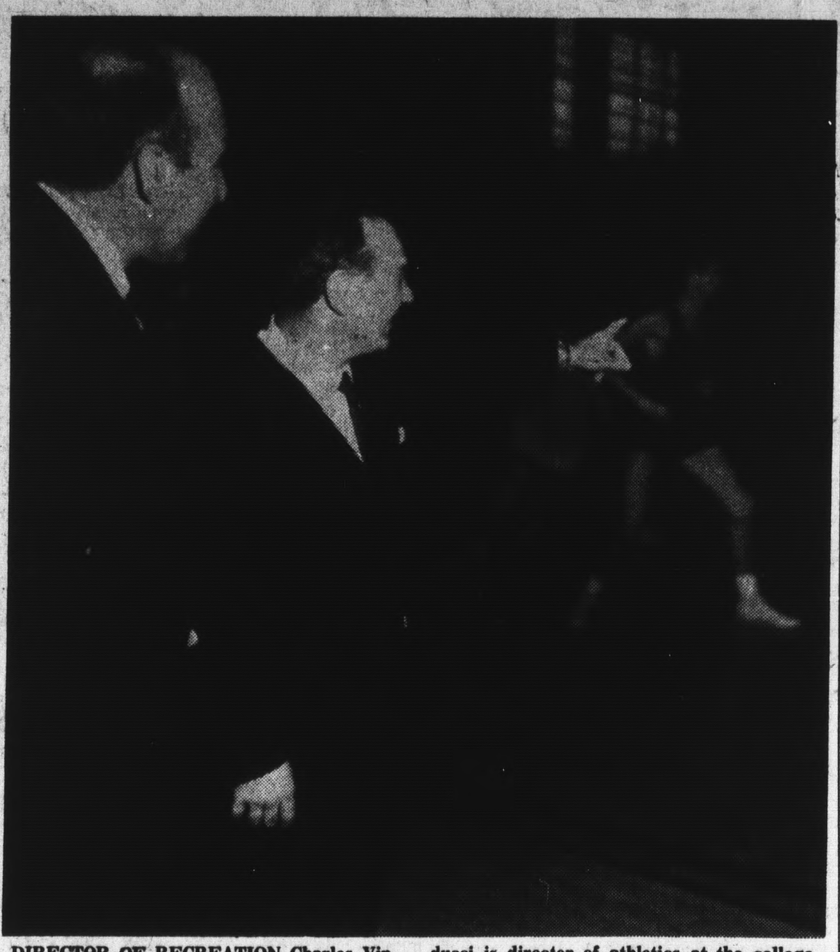
"In fact, one lady kissed my hand because she was so grateful. This kind of feeling shouldn't be just at Christmas.

"The feeling of share and joy and charity shoud be all year round. Not just a couple of days a year."

So you see my friends, teenagers are not as shiftless as some people would want to believe. Actually they're really rather great.

Teen-agers: If you have a problem or issue you'd like me to discuss, you may write me, Joe Bavaresco, in care of this newspaper.

Looking Them Over



DIRECTOR OF RECREATION Charles Vincent, left, and Daly City Mayor Joseph Verducci look over the San Francisco State basketball team in planning the basketball clinic slated for Monday at the Westmoor High school gym, starting at 1:30 p.m. Verducci is director of athletics at the college. Participants in the clinic should meet in the central courtyard. Coach Paul Rundell and his varsity players will serve as instructors in the extensive clinic, covering playing tectniques to rules.

Yule Classic Tournament Is Underway

Action in the Daly City Recreation department's annual Yuletide Basketball classic got under way Monday evening at the War Memorial Community center gym.

Eight teams were involved in first round play with the remaining eight teams slated to square off tomorrow beginning at 6:15 p.m.

Pairings for Monday's games were: Warriors vs. Badgers; Brisbane Wings vs. Lakers; Clodhoppers vs. Huck Doon Pods; OLPH Gaels vs. Beach Bums.

Tomorrow's games and time are: Lucky Internationals II vs. Drifters; Red Hot Choleys II vs. Chargers; Kleppers vs. Bohemians, and Chumpers vs. Dons.

The winners in the first round of play move into the championship bracket with the losers moving to the consolation. All teams participating in the tourney are guaranteed a minimum of two games.

Friday night's games will see the winners and losers from last Monday squaring off against each other. A repeat performance is set for next Monday night for the Thursday's winners and losers.

Semi-final game in both brackets will be played Thursday, January 2, with the consolation finals set for 7:15 Friday, January 3, and the championship game at 8:30 that same evening.

Individual trophies will be presented to the championship round winners and runnerups as well as the consolation bracket winners. In addition, trophies will be awarded to the tournament's most valuable player and most sportsmanlike player. Certificates will be presented to a 10-man tournament All-Star team.

The tournament was open to any high school aged youngsters living in Daly City, going to school in or representing a local youth group and was not participating on varsity or 130s basketball team.

Four Girls Chosen for 'Experiment'

Hoping to learn about the customs and people of foreign lands first hand, are four Westmoor girls, juniors Linda Wallace, Susan Wiard, Jane Hedlund, and Terry Hunter, who have been chosen to apply for the Experiment in International Living program.

After submitting their applications in the form of a brief composition on why they would like to be chosen for the program, the 13 applicants were interviewed by faculty members, and various community leaders.

The four selected will now submit more detailed applications which will now be sent to the Experiment in International Living office in New York. From those Westmoorites deemed eligible by the national office, the local chapter will choose one.

Program is a summer stay in some foreign country, living with a foster family. The financial expense, averaging $1000, will be shared by the school and the parents.

Possessing an earnest desire to view ways of life difference from their own, each girl expressed a longing for the opportunity to represent America obroad. They feel that living in today's world, one must have a keen interest and knowledge in the affairs of all nations.

Linda Wallace feels that through this program she will have the opportunity to acquire the traits that are most important to her—tolerance and understanding. She wants to "learn about people and . . . speak, projecting knowledge and experience."

Observing "people as themselves" is of utmost importance to Susan Wiard. She also expressed her desire to learn "open - mindedness, tolerance, the ability to make friends, and the ability to get along with all people."

Learning much about Sweden from her grandfather, Jane Hedlund, whose main interest is art, feels that actually viewing and studying the various forms of art in Sweden would enable her to return to America "with knowledge which would assist me in helping American children understand the Swedish culture."

Terry Hunter wants to find out what makes people "cry or laugh" and learn about their feelings on national governmental systems and the world countries. She is also attempting to find out the "uniqueness" of each national; thus, "gaining a deeper understanding of America."

Hoping to attain this beneficial opportunity, the four girls are eagerly awaiting the final decision.

Junior Teens Set Program Of Activities

The Majestics and Imperials Junior Teen clubs sponsored by the Daly City Recreation department have recently announced their winter program of activities. Both clubs have mailed a printed announcement of their activities to all their club members to keep them informed on coming activities.

The Imperials which meet regularly at the War Memorial Community center the first and third Fridays of each month from 7-9 p.m. have listed the following activities: Friday, January 3—regular meeting with game room and special dance instruction; Friday, January 17—regular meeting with dance contests; Saturday, January 25—bike riding and a treasure hunt in Golden Gate park; Friday, February 7 — Funny Feet night which will include prizes for funniest shoes and socks.

The Lincoln Park clubhouse is the home of the Majestics which meet also on the first and third Fridays of each month. Their activities include: Friday, January 3—regular meeting with a scavenger hunt and mystery games. Friday, January 17 — Hootenany party; Friday, January 31 — tentative ice hockey game outing; Friday, February 7 — Hawaiian party complete with costumes, prizes, refreshments and a hula contest.

Giving at Terra Nova

By CATHIE REED
Terra Nova
Correspondent

CHRISTMAS, to Terra Novans, generally can be expressed in two comprehensive words — "Hooray! Vacation!" It means fun, good food, and no homework, teachers, or tests, except for those who have book reports to catch up on.

It also means a lot of last minute shopping and struggling with the problem of what to get for the little brother or sister who has everything.

Giving seems to be an integral part of the Christmas spirit. One constantly hears questions such as: "What did you buy for so-and-so?" and "have you done any shopping yet?" and the lamentation of, "I'm broke," is heard throughout the school.

Every class at Terra Nova is pervaded with a sense of coming excitement and happiness. Everyone, outwardly, feels just about the same.

But in each class, to every individual, there is a special meaning, which can best be shown by the way they give.

The freshmen are looked down upon as "little kids" by the upperclassmen. But the freshmen think of themselves as tough guys, who, through entirely their own efforts, have finally made it to high school.

They're not too concerned about life, or giving, or anything serious, but they show simplicity and generosity in their giving. Whatever they can give, and often it isn't a material gift, they give completely in the full meaning of Christmas.

THE SOPHOMORES are nonchalant on the surface. They aren't given to showing their feeelings. They tend to laugh off anything serious, but they are capable of having very sincere and deep feelings.

They understand why people celebrate Christmas and they are certainly not immune to the contagious Christmas way of giving. They are mature enough to appreciate the real meaning of giving.

Juniors are boastful and proud of themselves. Their whole school year will be exciting for them and this excitement and happiness is doubled during the holiday season.

At Christmas they are a little more humble, and, at least for a moment, know how very small are their boasts.

They are willing to express their feelings through their gifts with no thought of themselves and a deeper thoughtfulness of those around them.

Seniors are mature, usually. They realize that they're just beginning life — but they're ready, willing and able to face the future.

They give with the knowledge that soon they will need a gift of perseverance and fortitude when they leave, either to go to college or to find a job, or both.

Their Christmas is filled with hope that they may be successful in life — in more than the conventional meaning of the word.

Have a very merry Christmas, then, and a happy New Year!

Hi-Fi Teen Council Named

The Hi Fi Teen club, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation department, has announced the appointment of its new executive council for the coming year.

New members are: Bob Molossi, Cheryl Fitzpatrick, Jehan Clements, Mike Gomez, Bob Claus, Bill Albera, Sharon Runyon, Ann Goshe, Tommy Shaddox, Henry Olvera, Vince Sala, Terri Bertsch, Sonja Alvarez, Kathy Fields, Suzie Wong and Barbara Brandulino.

These people join holdover council members CeCe Murrish, Chris Davis, Shirley Conway, Harriet Featherstone and Paul Tomasello. The council meets regularly on the first and third Monday evenings of the month from 7 to 9 p.m. at the War Memorial Community center.

The Hi Fi Executive council is charged with the responsibility of planning, promoting and organizing club meetings, activities and special events.

NEW CITY PLANNER

A Young Pacifica Needs Young Ideas

By LOIS McNALY

A YOUTHFUL planner for a youthful city. That's the role 25-year-old James Supinger has assumed. He is the new city staff planner for the six-year-old city of Pacifica.

A graduate in city planning and landscape architecture from Michigan State university, Supinger came from Fort Worth, Texas. to take the Pacifica position.

He was chosen for the job out of a field of ten qualified applicants.

Supinger says he is particularly interested in problems relating to the growth and development of a city. He will see plenty of these in Pacifica.

He will work with the planning commission as it makes decisions on rezoning, issues use permits for new enterprises, approves architectural plans for new buildings, and oversees maps for new subdivisions.

"It is up to the citizens to decide the kind of city they want to have,' Supinger says. "Shoddiness can be avoided."

Coming from a conservative Texas city, Supinger thinks that California cities are quite progressive in planning for the future.

In Fort Worth, where he was a member of the city planning staff, Supinger

JAMES SPRINGER
New Planner

worked on the preparation of the first master plan for the city — something Pacifica has had for several years.

THE CITY PLANNER here is greatly helped, Supinger believes, by legislation that calls for city approval of proposed architecture and gives city officials the right to require such things as landscaping to improve the appearance of new buildings.

In his studies at Michigan, Supinger was required to take courses in civil engineering and delve into the sociology and the social aspects of how people live.

A bachelor, Supinger has chosen to live in a seashore cottage on Shelter cove, a secluded beach west of Pedro Point. Having been raised in the midwest, he enjoys being close to the sea.

THRILLED with the atmosphere of San Francisco with its many clubs, restaurants and theaters, Supinger says the city is quite a change from quiet Fort Worth and his small hometown of Midland, Mich.

He left Fort Worth by chance the day after President Kennedy's assassination and reports that he was stopped all the way west by people wanting to hear his personal account of that fateful day.

Supinger was present when the late president last talked in Fort Worth. He says the people there were profoundly shocked that such a thing could have happened in their state.

He made his trip west in three days with one "catastrophe": he ran out of gas on the south rim of the Grand Canyon, 11 miles from the nearest service station.

"It was raining, snowing and foggy," he recalls. He says he hitchhiked to the service station and saw little of the Grand Canyon since it was dark before he could get under way again.

New Expense Accounting Is Adopted

Two new policies, one regulating expense account spending by city officials and the other clarifying duties of the Park, Beach and Recreation commission, have been approved by Pacifica City council.

Councilmen will now have to file receipts for meals and lodgings—showing dates, places and occasions and for entertainment expenses, and the names of persons or groups involved.

Individual entertainment amounts for specific occasions that exceed $15, will need council authorization. If mileage is more than 100 miles in one month, destinations and functions attended will have to be listed.

The new Recreation commission policy restricts that body to a strictly advisory function, thus, in effect, ruling out any more incidents as that which occurred on Halloween eve when commissioners overruled department heads and cancelled a scheduled teen-age activity.

The policy states that the commission's duties are: making special studies at council request, alerting the council to any matters of particular interest and keeping in close touch with community desires. Its the commission's responsibility to the department staff to interpret policy and be aware of plans, activities and fiscal operations.

Three appointments to the Welfare Referral board were announced at the council's meeting last week. They are: John Jacobs, principal of Vallemar school; William Wolf, Pacifica postmaster, and Mrs. Sallyann Borras, a housewife.

In accordance with a procedure recently voted by the council, the appointments were made on the recommendation of present Welfare board members.

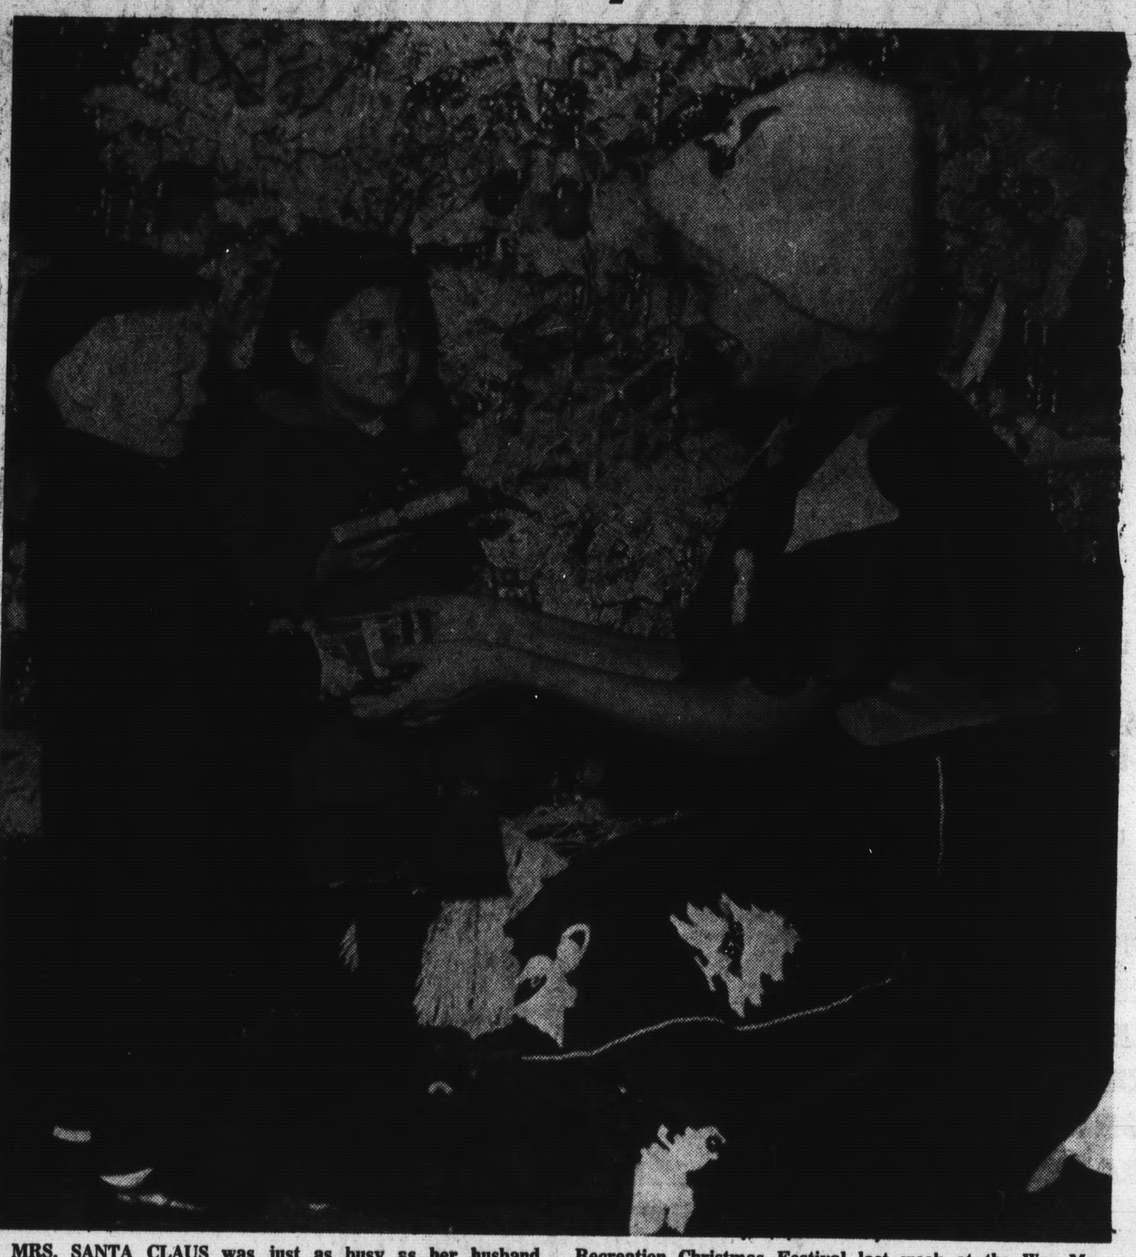
She's Busy Too!!



MRS. SANTA CLAUS was just as busy as her husband during this busy holiday season. Here Mrs. Claus (she's really Annelore Peters of 274 Crocker avenue, Daly City) passes out gifts to children at the Daly City Department of Recreation Christmas Festival last week at the War Memorial Community center. Happy to receive them are Munro Boyd of 143 Thiers and Susan Walker of 89 Eighty-eighth street. (Post-Times photo)

Christmas Music

THE DALY CITY COMMUNITY CHORUS provided the music for the festival Thursday and Friday sponsored by the Department of Recreation. The program was entitled "Christmas—Its Carols, Customs and Legends." Also in the pageant was the department sponsored creative dance and teen-age drama classes. Edward Tomasello narrated the pageant. (Post-Times photo)

Gifts for All

SANTA HAS a tasty candy cane ready for seven-year-old Diane Plichick of 566 Higate drive, Daly City, at a Christmas party sponsored by the Hillside Homeowners' Improvement club in the multi-use room of Colma K-6 school. Diane helped provide entertainment for the party as a bride in a program presented by Roberta's Dance studio. Santa Claus is John Jensen of 464 Castle street, Daly City. (Post-Times Photo)

Pacific Parade

By DON MILLER

THE LIGHT of Christmas, 1963, dawned over a varied scene this morning in the North county. The first glimmer of light softly fell upon all of our homes, it's true, but the light that filtered through windows wreathed with holly illuminated homes of starkly contrasting moods.

This is as it should be for Christmas—any Christmas—is always accompanied by the exigencies of fate—whether or not Dame Fortune has smiled benignly or sadly that day.

This Christmas morning in the North county, there are two homes that reflect how unpredictably the tides of time can flow and how disdainfully they regard the calendar.

We'd like to tell you about them.

When the light of this December 25 peeked over the San Bruno mountains, it fell upon a strangely silent, small and modest old house at 260 Peoria street in Daly City.

For the first time in a decade, an old couple couldn't be seen bustling about inside, preparing to celebrate a Christmas that in other years had been one of the highlights of their twilight years together.

This was the home of Eugene Schwab, a retired utility company employe and his wife, Ida.

Their children, Louise of Redwood City, Richard of El Cerrito, and George who lives in Pennsylvania, had long ago reached their maturity and moved away.

So the Schwabs lived by themselves and as the years passed, they became — in the words of a neighbor—"deeply devoted . . you'd always see them together."

TWO OR THREE years ago, the Schwabs' health began to decline. She suffered from arthritis and he from a chronic disease.

From time to time, one would become bed-ridden and the other would lovingly take care of his partner until the severity of the illness had passed.

Then after a while, the situation would become reversed and bed-ridden and partner would exchange roles. Now and then, the family doctor came by to administer to their needs.

He came by a couple of weeks ago on a Thursday and found that Ida Schwab had bcome very ill and should be hospitalized.

And so, she was taken to Mary's Help hospital and her doctor feared the end had come. Eugene Schwab visited his wife that day at the hospital and returned to a silent home with a heavy heart.

As he changed his clothes, he apparently suffered a seizure and fell to the floor.

The next day, his wife became apprehensive when he did not appear at her bedside to visit with her as long as visiting hours would permit.

Their son, Richard, was summoned and he went to the little, frame house on Peoria street and discovered that his 75-year-old father had died where he had fallen on the floor.

At the hospital, Ida feared the worst. She pleaded with hospital attendants not to "fib" with her. She said she wanted to be told.

That night, her son told her. Because she was of sterner stuff than many, Ida Schwab took the news of the passing of her husband stoically—almost philosophically.

But somehow, in a way that only those who have deeply loved and lost can understand, the small flame that had burned so stubbornly in Ida's heart for 68 years began to flicker uncertainly.

Outwardly, she appeared to be recovering, doctors noted, and by the following Monday seemed on the way back from death's door.

But later that day, the small flame flickered for a final moment and went out and Ida Schwab died.

Her family doctor noted only: "She was getting better but she simply had lost the will to live."

IN PACIFICA, the light of this Christmas Day streamed through the windows of the Cristofani home at 249 Reichling avenue, which five months ago had been etched with grief.

Today, this home was filled with joy—and thanksgiving. It was a kind of Christmas nobody in August thought would be possible for young Michael Cristofani, his father and his grandmother.

On a warm summer day in early August, Michael was swimming in the surf off Pedro Beach. He swam and dove with the confidence that had made him one of the top swimmers on his team at Terra Nova High school.

But he misjudged the depth of a wave as he dove and struck his head on sand in what turned out to be very shallow water.

Michael was rushed to Peninsula hospital where doctors found he had broken his neck. The youth was completely paralyzed. His life was in doubt.

But the same sort of spirit that had spurred Michael all his life prevailed. Doctors wouldn't promise how much of a recovery he could be expected to make for the fall had nearly severed his spinal chord. In fact, it had come within an eighth of an inch of doing so.

Buoyed by a deluge of get-well cards from his Terra Nova classmates and visits from friends and relatives, Michael started out on the long and difficult road to the full use of his body again.

His spirits never flagged. He insisted, when he finally could, upon feeding himself—no matter how awkward the process was.

He got to know his nurses by their shoes only—because that's all he could see from his position in traction.

AS THE WEEKS went by, Michael slowly—but determinedly—regained the use of his arms and legs.

Two days before his seventeenth birthday on September 11, the youth left the hospital for more convalescence at home. In the words of his family, doctors were "amazed" at the way he had emerged from paralysis.

At home, Michael resumed his school studies through a special program where teachers visited him. He's interested in mechanical drawing and after he graduates, he hopes to enter college.

That he will graduate—and this year—seemed almost a certainty this Christmas Day.

For Michael went back to his classes at Terra Nova three weeks ago to the surprise of fellow students, to the surprise of doctors and to the prayerful thanks of his family.

He has resumed swimming—the doctors have recommended it—and in time, they say, he'll be able to dive again.

It's a recovery his grandmother says is a miracle. It's also something, she says joyously, that has made this "a wonderful Christmas."

Academy Finalists Selected

Finalists for appointment to the United States Service academies were announced by Congresman J. Arthur Younger, following a report on the civil service examination given in November.

Six finalists will compete for one appointment to the U. S. Air Force academy at Colorado Springs, Colo.

Among them is Michael Paulus, of 31 Desvio court, Pacifica.

Among the six who will compete in final examinations for one appointment to the U. S. Naval academy at Annapolis, Md., is Richard Boucher, 137 Alta Mesa drive, South San Francisco.

Younger does not have an appointment to the U. S. Military academy at West Point this year, because there are five in the academy from San Mateo county at the present time, which is the maximum under federal laws.

Finalists for the competition for 18 places allocated to the State of California in the U.S. Merchant Marine academy at Kings Point, New York, will be announced later Younger said.

The final examination will be given at Stanford university next March, at which time one boy will be named to the Air Force academy and one to Annapolis from the finalist groups, Younger announced.

Four Students Given Honors

Four San Mateo county student nurses at the University of San Francisco have been awarded scholarship certificates by the firms and organizations sponsoring them.

They are Patricia Warren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Warren Jr., 127 Longford street, South San Francisco, Loyola Guild scholarship; Patricia Crooks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Crooks, 50 Glenbrook, Hillsborough.

Also Virginia Rodondi, daughter of City Clerk and Mrs. Arthur A. Rodondi, 510 Magnolia avenue, South San Francisco, Daniel J. and Josephine Murphy scholarships, and Pamela Wentworth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Wentworth, 55 Fulton street, Redwood City, Mary Lee McKnight Orbeliani scholarship.

VANDALISM REPORTED

Catherine Bradshaw of 141 East Vista avenue, Daly City, reported to police that vandals had shot a BB through a window of her residence.

One Injured in Two-Car Crash

One person was injured in a two-car accident at Junipero Serra boulevard and North Parkview avenue in Daly City last Tuesday morning.

Treated at Kaiser Foundation hospital in South San Francisco for a scalp cut was Argentina A. Acacio, 29, of 251 St. Catherine drive, Daly City, driver of one of the cars.

Police identified the driver of the other auto as Rodrigo Arosemena, 28, of 508 Niantic avenue, Daly City.

KENNETH G. HESKETH, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred C. Hesketh of 327 Heathcliff drive, Pacifica, has graduated with honors from the naval training center at San Diego. He is a June, 1963, graduate of Terra Nova High school.

D.C. Police End County Spree of S.F. Culprit

A San Francisco man was jailed last week on charges of auto theft and attempted armed robbery following a county-wide escapade that started in San Carlos and ended in Daly City.

John Thomas Ross, 37, a pressman, was arrested by Daly City police at about 8 Thursday night after two residents, Edward D. O'Connell, 289 Westridge avenue and Vriginia Mills, 78 Seacliff avenue, both of Daly City, had reported a prowler.

Ross, who had attempted to steal a car in San Carlos earlier by threatening its driver with a shotgun, surrendered calmly and told police "I am the man you are looking for." He said he was looking for another car to steal.

The one he got in San Carlos was a pickup truck belonging to Horace Siino, 1001 Santa Cruz avenue, Menlo Park.

Siino told San Carlos police he had left the truck in the driveway of his hardware store, at St. Francis way and Laurel street with the engine running at about 6 p.m. for five minutes. Returning, it was gone. Parked in the middle of the street was a car police identified as Ross's.

Ross had bought a 12-gauge shotgun in San Francisco Tuesday at a department store, police ascertained.

His first venture with it occurred at about 5:05 yesterday when he double parked behind the car of Joan Lynn McConne, 1434 Chestnut street, San Carlos, which was parked in the 1100 block of Laurel street.

He ordered her out of the car, smiling all the while and saying "I need your car," police reported.

When she argued he raised the gun to break the right front door window, she said, when a girl friend, Mary Amo, 1198 Laurel, came out of her apartment and demanded "What do you think you are doing?"

Apparently taken aback by the cool-nerved women, Ross said "You think you have troubles," and returned to his car and drove off.

Witnesses got the license number, but Siino's pickup was gone by the time the car was located, police said.

JAMES W. SILVA, son of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Silva, has graduated from the Naval Training center at San Diego. Prior to enlisting in the Navy, he attended Westmoor High school.

Land Bid Authorized

San Francisco's public utilities commission has authorized the seeking of bids for lease of eight acres of land in South San Francisco.

Formerly part of the Market street railway right-of-way, the land is now owned by the city's water department.

Utilities commissioners have received queries about its availability as a trailer court site, and as a pitch and putt gold course site. The proper thing to do, they agreed yesterday, is to put it up for bid and thereby obtain the best possible income.

Club Elects J. H. Clinton

J. Hart Clinton, editor and publisher of The Post-Times, has been elected president of the Commonwealth club of California for 1964. He had served as vice president of the organization this year.

Clinton is a partner in the San Francisco law firm of Morrison, Foerster, Holloway, Clinton and Clark.

Elected as vice president of the club was Col. James S. Hughes, faculty member at San Francisco City college.

New members of the board of governors include Henry O. Hammerich, Justice Marshall F. McComb of the California Supreme court and Wallace S. Myers.

Shelley to Meet With S.M. Mayors

San Francisco's Mayor-Elect John F. Shelley will discuss mutual problems with members of the San Mateo County Council of Mayors at a meeting of the Council in San Mateo Monday.

Mayor Joseph J. Verducci of Daly City will preside at the meeting in Villa Chartier beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Verducci, chairman of the Council, said in a note to council members that "the solution to these problems will determine whether we continue to build and develop harmoniously and in an orderly fashion, or whether we become bogged down in friction and bickering."

Lutherans Plan Service

In observance of Christmas Day, there will be a festival service at 11 a.m., at Hope Lutheran church, 55 San Fernando road, Daly City, Pastor Arnim H. Polster has announce

The theme of Pastor Polster's sermon will be "God's Great Gift of Love."

In remarking on the observation of Christmas, Pastor Polster said, "To celebrate Christmas without worshiping Christ makes Chirstmas a man-made meansingless secular observance. Only when we come to adore him does Christmas retain its real, it's only true meaning."

Special Christmas music will be rendered by the Hope Lutheran choir during this festival service.

CHARLES W. COEN

BOWLING BAG TAKEN

Hugh O'Brien of 14 Midvale drive, Daly City, reported to police over the weekend that a bowling bag and shoes had been stolen from his car, parked in front of his home.

Hospital Drive Totals $847,000, Group Told

The Mary's Help Hospital fund drive total has reached $847,000, Pete Markovich, manager of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce, told the board of directors. The drive goal is $1.5-million.

Markovich reported on the progress of the campaign in the absence of the chamber's drive chairman, Frank Curry.

Several firms still have to be contacted after the first of the year, Markovich said, because they had not alloted for a donation in their budgets this year.

In other action, the board voted to send a letter of commendation to Mayor Joseph Verducci who announced his resignation from the Daly City Council last week.

"He has served the Daly City community long, well and faithfully," said Edward Morgan, superintendent of the Jefferson Union High school district, in making the motion.

Chamber president Herb Sharpe made several committee appointments. Fred Martin will head the nominating committee, Bernard "Bud" Lycett, the installation night program and Morgan next year's Christmas party.

$4000 Damage Caused by Fire

Fire caused an estimated $4000 damage to a house occupied by Maria Bailey at 144 Santa Cruz avenue in Daly City.

Investigators said the flames started in a closet and spread to adjoining rooms. The fire scorched the wall of a neighboring house at 138 Santa Cruz, owned by Mrs. John Adams. Damage to her home was estimated at $50.

BETTER BUSINESS

Itinerant Photo Sales Described

By LORENE BEASLEY
Editor, Better Business Bureau's "Barometer"

THERE WERE only a few days left before the BIG DAY and the photographs ordered for Christmas gifts from the door-to-door salesman had not been delivered as promised to the housewife.

A salesman had knocked at her door in early November with beautiful samples of photographic work done at a fraction of the cost the local studios charged.

This advance man, who was in reality a photographer's agent, sold the housewife coupons supposedly good for one or more pictures "free."

A week later, I was followed by a man with a camera who snapped the picture in a great hurry because he was on a "tight holiday scedule."

Finally, a "proof passer" called upon her with the printed picture and she was pressured into buying many more copies of the picture at a much fancier price than she had originally planned.

She was advised to pay in full to expedite the Christmas delivery which she did.

If this trusting housewife is fortunate, she may have received the pictures in time for Christmas giving. Such orders are usually late and very often a paid-in-full order never arrives.

THE HOUSEWIFE may be disappointed in the quality of the pictures she receives as very often the photographs do not measure up to the beautiful samples of work the canvassers carry to show prospects.

A favorite method employed by the intinerant vendor is to send the finished order COD. In this manner, the customer must pay before examining the photographs.

The customer with a complaint often finds that the "studio" is no longer in business or cannot be located. Often, the owner has only changed the address and name of the "studio."

Most photographers are artists and depend upon their skill and fair dealing to hold a permanent place in a community.

The Better Business bureau advises that customers can avoid disappointment and dissatisfaction by dealing with photographers of known reliability.

Western Omelet

Cook 8 slices bacon, diced, in large skillet until browned. Remove bacon and drain on absorbent paper. Pour off fat. Melt 2 tbs butter in skillet; add 8 green onions (white part) sliced, and cook 2 or 3 minutes. Add bacon to 8 eggs, slightly beaten; add 3 tbs heavy cream, ½ tsp salt, ¼ tsp pepper, 2 tsps prepared mustard. Pour into skillet, and cook, lifting edges of mixture with spatula to let egg run under. When firm and browned on bottom, fold over, and turn out on a hot platter. Garnish with parsley. Serves 4.

Funeral services were held Friday from the Nauman & Lincoln Chapel by the Sea, Pacifica. Interment was at Skylawn Memorial park west of San Mateo.

Last Minute Fruitcake Tip

Making goodies is a wonderful way to Christmas-shop at home. And, happily for the time-limits of the season, there's nothing old-fashioned about this fruitcake except the flavor. Start with Date Bread Mix, finish soon after with a homemade loaf that's perfect for giving—or serving. You can turn out individual Miniature Fruitcakes or a Fruitcake Ring for a buffet—both are just as speedily made as the traditional loaf. All are wonderfully delicious ways to say, "Happy Holidays".

Date Fruitcake

1 package Date Bread Mix
1½ cups chopped candied fruit
1 cup chopped nuts
½ cup raisins

Prepare Date Bread Mix adding candied fruit, nuts and raisins with the dry mix. Turn into 8x4 or 9x5-inch loaf pan, greased and floured on bottom only. Bake at 350° for 70 to 80 minutes. Glaze with warm corn syrup and garnish with candied fruit. Cool thoroughly before slicing.
Miniature Fruitcakes: Bake in 24 paper-lined or greased muffin cups for 30 to 35 minutes.
Fruitcake Ring: Bake in 9 or 10-inch tube pan, greased and floured on bottom only for 55 to 65 minutes.

Make Up Own Sabbath Bread

A fine recipe for the twisted loaf of bread which is traditionally served on the Jewish Sabbath.

Challah Loaf

½ cup warm potato water (105 to 115 degrees F.)
1 package active dry yeast
2 teaspoons sugar
½ teaspoon salt
4 cups sifted flour (about)
1-3 cup margarine, melted and cooled to room temperature
4 eggs, slightly beaten
corn oil

Pour warm potato water into mixing bowl. Sprinkle yeast over water and stir until dissolved. Add sugar, salt, 1½ cups sifted flour and melted margarine. Beat until smooth. Reserve 1 tablespoon egg; blend remainder into flour mixture. Add remaining flour, or enough to make easily handled dough. Knead on lightly floured board until smooth and elastic. Place in oiled bowl; brush lightly with corn oil. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until double in bulk, about 45 minutes.

Punch down; place on lightly floured board. Knead gently 1 minute. Cover; let rest 15 minutes. Form into roll, 12 inches long. Cut into 6 equal pieces. Roll each piece in palms of hands into rope, 14 inches long, with ends tapering into points.

Arrange ropes side by side on greased cooky sheet. Pinch together firmly at one end. Cross the outer two ropes completely, so the free ends have reversed positions. Now begin the pattern which will be repeated until all the dough is woven into the challah braid.

Number ropes 1 through 6, from left to right as they now rest. Cross number 6 (the outer right rope) back 2 ropes, so it rests between ropes 3 and 4. Cross rope 2 over to the extreme right, so it rests where number 6 had been. Cross rope 1 (the outer left rope) over 2 ropes. Cross the rope in number 5 position to the extreme left, so it becomes number 1. Repeat the pattern as often as needed, renumbering the ropes as they rest before beginning. Pinch ends together securely.

Brush loaf with corn oil. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 30 minutes. Brush with reserved egg. Bake in 425 degrees F. (hot) oven 15 minutes. Set oven temperature control at 375 degrees F. (moderate) and continue baking until golden brown, about 15 minutes longer. Makes 1 loaf.

Buttered Shrimp a Simple Dish

If the shrimp are prepared ahead, "butter" them at the last minute.

Buttered Shrimp Hominy
Green Salad French Bread
Fresh Fruit Beverage

BUTTERED SHRIMP

1 pound shrimp, about 28 to the pound
1 medium clove garlic
¼ cup butter or margarine

Cook the shrimp; shell and devein; cut in half lengthwise, retaining shape. Peel and halve garlic clove; rub a 10-inch skillet with the halves and then drop them into the skillet. Add the butter and melt. Add cooked shrimp and heat rapidly, turning them in the butter. Remove garlic. Serve at once. Makes 3 servings.

Note: To cook the shrimp you may use this method—wash in cold water and drain; add to 1 pint boiling water and 1½ teaspoons salt in a saucepan. Simmer, covered, for several minutes, until all the shells turn pink and the flesh is opaque.

Grapefruit Buffet Treat

Homemade Scotch Broth with Fresh Minced Parsley
Assorted Bread and Cracker Tray with Cheese
Grapefruit Bowl Frances
Beverage

GRAPEFRUIT BOWL FRANCES

6 grapefruit, 3 pink and 3 white
1 can (12 ounces) unsweetened pineapple juice (1½ cups)
Candied ginger
Powdered (not confectioner's) sugar

Pare grapefruit so no white membrane remains; with a sharp knife cut away sections from dividing membrane. Drain off juice for other use. Add chilled pineapple juice to grapefruit sections. Wash 3 to 6 small pieces of candied ginger under hot water to remove sugar coating and soften; slice into very thin strips. Garnish grapefruit with ginger strips. Pass a small bowl of powdered sugar for those who wish to sweeten the compote. Makes 8 servings.

Mild Curry Dish Found Exciting

Exciting curry dish that's mild enough for all the family.

Fragrant Shrimp Curry
Snap Beans Sesame Crackers
Chocolate Cake Beverage

FRAGRANT SHRIMP CURRY

4 tablespoons butter or margarine
4 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon curry powder
2 cups water
1 beef bouillon cube
1 pound medium shrimp (cookde, cleaned and cut in half lengthwise)
½ cup converted-type rice (cooked according to package directions)
¾ cup flaked coconut

Melt butter in 1-quart saucepan over low heat; stir in flour, then curry powder. Add water and bouillion cube; cook and stir constantly until thickened. Add shrimp, reheat. Arrange hot rice in deep 9-inch pie plate; turn curried shrimp over it; sprinkle with coconut. Bake in very hot (450 degrees) oven until coconut is toasted—about 10 minutes. Makes 4 small servings. Serve with mango chutney.

A Party Air To This Salad

Molded salads have a party air. Crunchy Pineapple Cranberry Ring is perfect for holiday buffet meals featuring turkey or baked ham. It is distinguished by a subtle blending of canned crushed pineapple with tart canned cranberry sauce and nuts. Make the salad in advance for leisurely serving.

Crunchy Pineapple Cranberry Mold

1 (1-pound 4½-ounce) can crushed pineapple
1 (6-ounce) package lemon flavored gelatin
½ cup lemon juice
3 tablespoons shredded or chopped orange peel
2 (1-pound) cans whole cranberry sauce
⅓ cup chopped walnuts

Easy Fluffy Dressing

Drain pineapple; add enough water to syrup to make 1½ cups liquid. Heat liquid to boiling and pour over gelatin, stirring well to dissolve. Stir in pineapple and remaining ingredients, except dressing; turn into 7-cup ring mold. Chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with pineapple slices, crisp greens and holly, if desired. Served with Easy Fluffy Dressing. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Easy Fluffy Dressing: Stir together ½ cup each mayonnaise and dairy sour cream. Makes 1 cup.

A Country Style Beef Pot Roast

What could be more satisfying to winter appetites than the inviting warmth of a country style meal, especially when the center of attraction is a meaty, robust pot roast?

That old-fashioned appeal results when the pot roast gently simmers on your range along with seasonings and colorful vegetables. The rich flavor of the beef extends to the vegetables, and the result is a dish that's hard to top for downright goodness.

Pot roasts make fine economy meals as well. Arm and blade pot roasts come from the chuck, a less-demanded section of beef. Therefore, the price is usually budget-wise.

Although they carry the name "roast," pot roasts are not to be confused with a tender roast, like the standing rib, which is roasted (cooked uncovered by dry heat). Pot roasts must be braised.

COUNTRY STYLE POT-ROAST

3 to 4-pound beef arm or bladepot roast
3 tablespoons lard or drippings
2½ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
½ cup water
2 bay leaves
4 medium carrots, cut in 2-inch pieces
12 to 16 small whole onions
1 package (10 ounces) frozen lima beans
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
Flour for gravy.

Brown pot roast in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings, season with salt and papper. Add water and bay leaves. Cover tightly and cook slowly 2 hours. Add carrots and onion and continue cooking 45 minutes. Add lima beans and continue cooking 30 minutes or until meat is tender and vegetables are done. Remove meat and vegetables to heated platter. Discard bay leaves. Add Worcestershire sauce to cooking liquid. Thicken liquid with flour for gravy. 6 to 8 servings.

Holiday Treat For Dieters

For calorie counters among your family and friends who want a hedge against the holiday urge to splurge, here's an eggnog base that will let them enjoy the traditional yuletide treat without qualms.

It's made with saccharin, the no-calorie sweetener available at any drugstore, and nonfat dry skim milk. Weight-watchers may enjoy its creamy flavor in the knowledge that each serving has 50 fewer calories than the usual drink.

Eggnog

(Calories in one serving: 161)

1. Let stand in a small bowl or electric blender until dissolved . . . . . 2 saccharin tablets (¼ grain each) in 1 cup water
2. Beat in thoroughly . . . . 1 egg, 3 Tbsp. nonfat dry skim milk, ½ tsp. vanilla
3. Cover and chill. Makes 1 serving.

Frank Gorshin Returns To Oakland Holiday Inn

EVERY FOUR SCORE AND SEVEN YEARS, OR SO, a really dynamic talent appears on the entertainment scene. Frank Gorshin has that kind of talent. Possibly no other entertainer, with the exception of Sammy Davis, Jr., comes close to touching the completeness of Frank's professional versatility. Dramatic actor, singer, master-mime, comedian, and dancer, are all an equal part of the composite picture of Frank Gorshin. Frank is one of those "natural" ones, that is oft spoken of, but rarely found. So it's no wonder Oakland's Holiday Inn booked him back for a third time within a few short months. Gorshin's opening was last Tuesday—and continues for two weeks . . . Jack Benny, one of the world's outstanding comedians and a regular performer at Harrah's during the past several years, makes his winter debut at Harrah's beautiful South Shore Room when he opens a two-week engagement December 24. Appearing through December 23 are George Jessel and Harrah's first annual Variety Show. Also on the program with Benny are The Letterman, an exciting quartet; Las Ghezzis, a comedy pantomime trio; the gorgeous Mord-Landis Dancers, and Leighton Noble and his orchestra. Headlining the 24-hour entertainment program at the Reno Show Lounge is Jack Ross and His Sextet. Tops at the Stateline Lounge are the Tommy Dorsey orchestra, and the Mary Kaye Trio. Complete show information may be obtained by calling SUtter 1-2771.

Frank Gorshin

GAYLORD AND HOLIDAY, an abundance of musical talent comedianship, imagination and good taste, will open their Holiday engagement in the Fairmont Hotel Venetian Room Thursday, December 26. Currently featured is Pat Suzuki, the little lady with the big voice . . . The Premieres close at the Galaxie on Saturday night, with a new group opening one week from tonight. It will be the Nooney Rickett V, featuring the singing of Joni Lyman. This is a new rock'n roll group that has been sensational in Las Vegas. . . . Sam Landy, who has written books and lectured all about "How to Win at Gambling," had dinner at Phil Lehr's Steakery and gave Phil the low-down on how to win. So Phil flew up to the Nugget in Sparks, East Reno, and tried the Landy system. He's waiting for Sam to come in again for dinner 'cause he has a message: "I tried your system and only one thing wrong with it—I LOST." . . . If you're not already committed for Christmas Eve and New Year's dinners, plan to visit Frank Torres Beach Hotel in Montara—and join in the festivities. . . . On your next trip to Lake Tahoe (South Shore), be sure to drop in Barney's Casino, one of the smartest clubs in the area. Superb cuisine and beverages; free coffee 24 hours a day.

Gaylord

THE NEW MAITRE D' AT ROCCA'S RESTAURANT on Christmas Eve will be Santa Claus. Co-owner Lou Rocca Jr. will be dressed in his Santa outfit to escort you to your table. . . . The Hotel Claremont presented "Hansel and Gretel" a special Christmas treat for the youngsters and the not-too-oldsters. The show, produced by Marilyn Heinmiller, had a cast of 21 and featured dancers from the Academy of ballet. Alma played the role of the mother. Families found the Claremont buffet dinner both delightful and delicious . . . Lew Lehr bought a new golf bag, last week (cost $150), then proudly went to Harding Golf course and shot —the worst game ever . . . The elegant new Crystal room at Wilbur Clark's Las Vegas Desert Inn, which launches its premier attraction with Eddie Fisher as the headline star surrounded by an elaborate holiday revue on December 23, will present big-name, big time talents in succeeding months . . . Sign behind the checkstand at Lake Tahoe's Crystal Bay Club? "People Without Children, Upon Request, Will be Supplied With an Alarm Clock."

TED STEINER, the 115 East Third Avenue jeweler, has just the thing for some restaurant owners to gift their customers: Solid gold toothpicks. For those who have trouble keeping shoe laces in order, Ted can supply you with solid gold tips for the laces. Gold pussy cats with diamond eyes for tie tacks are also popular. In fact, everything in this store is 14 karat—including the "boss." . . . Bruno Scatena's Joe's of Westlake—with its wide variety of food, has proven to be one of the most popular places to dine. Whether you want luncheon or dinner, the cuisine is excellent . . . the short space of only two weeks, the Fairmont Hotel has completely redone it's Camellia Room on the Lobby floor into an elegant dining room which is undoubtedly one of the most beautiful in San Francisco. Now called the Restaurant (Camellia) Francais of the Fairmont, this lovely dining room will be serving breakfast, luncheon and dinner daily but will now specialize in complete French gourmet dinners served nightly by an all-French staff of waiters. Captained by M. Maurice Anzallag, the waiters will provide individual service in the great European tradition. These full course French dinners at only $7.50 will be one of the finest dining values in the area. As has been traditional for many years, the Sunday brunch for only 3.95 will continue to be served for Nob Hill visitors and residents.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

1. NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Board of Supervisors of the County of San Mateo, State of California, will receive sealed bids for the furnishing of all labor, materials, transportation, and services required for MOVABLE PARTITIONS FOR PROBATION DEPARTMENT, ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICES, TOWER ROAD OFF RALSTON AVENUE, BELMONT, CALIFORNIA, FOR THE COUNTY OF SAN MATEO.

2. Instructions for bidders, bid forms, drawings, specifications, and contract documents may be examined at the office of the County Purchasing Agent, Redwood City, California. All bids shall be submitted in accordance with the requirements and conditions of said documents, including such bid bonds as may be required.

3. Bids shall be sealed and filed with the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of the County of San Mateo at the Hall of Justice and Records, Redwood City, California, on or before the 7th day of JANUARY, 1964, at 10:00 A. M., and will be opened in public in the chambers of said Board of Supervisors at or about 10:00 A. M. of that day in said Hall of Justice and Records.

4. Bidders are hereby notified that pursuant to the Statutes of the State of California, or local law applicable thereto, the Board of Supervisors has ascertained the general prevailing rate of per diem wages and rates for legal holidays and overtime work in the locality in which this work is being performed, for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to execute this contract which will be awarded the successful bidder. All laborers, workmen or mechanics employed by the successful bidder or his subcontractors shall be paid not less than said prevailing rates in the execution of this contract.

5. The prevailing rates so determined as follows are based on an eight hour day, forty hour week, except as otherwise noted. Existing agreements between the building trades and the construction industry groups relative to overtime, holidays and other special provisions shall be recognized.

The rates of prevailing wages determined by the Board of Supervisors are as follows:

CRAFT	PER HOUR
Carpenters	$4.33
Glaziers	4.25
Laborers (Group No. 3)	3.475
Millmen	3.525
Painters	4.22
Sheet Metal Workers	4.65

FOR ANY WAGE RATE NOT LISTED HEREIN FOR OTHER BUILDING CRAFTS, SAN MATEO COUNTY WAGE RATES WILL APPLY.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS, County of San Mateo, State of California. BRADLEE SMITH, Purchasing Agent.

To be published in SAN MATEO POST at San Mateo, California, Wednesday, December 18, 25, 1963. (P-87)

The GIFT SPOTTER HAS EVERYTHING FOR CHRISTMAS

"What Christmas Means to Me"

AMY MAYEDA,
700 FIRST AVENUE
SAN MATEO, CALIFORNIA

"Christmas means many things to me. It means giving and receiving presents and Christmas cards. Christmas is a time when we sing Christmas carols but most of all Christmas is the time when Christ was born. If Christ wasn't born, we wouldn't be able to celebrate and know the spirit of Christmas." This is what Christmas means to me, writes Amy, who is ten and in the fifth grade at Lawrence School. Amy belongs to the Campfire Girls and is on the Safety Patrol and Student Council at school. She collects rocks, plays the piano and is learning to read and write Japanese. She also has lots of fun with her pet dog "Monkie".

TODAY'S CONTEST WINNERS!

GEORGE ERICKSON,
2413 READ AVENUE,
BELMONT, CALIFORNIA

George tells us "Christmas means to me fun with toys. Christmas makes me think of Jesus. I like Santa Claus too! We are happy at our house. I like Christmas!" This is What Christmas Means to Me. George is six years old and in the first grade at Cipriani School. He likes baseball and football. He has three sisters and a kitten and goldfish.
